BRAZILIAN DEAD

Tragedy Occurs During
Routine Training
Flight in Florida

Pensacola, Fla. (AP)—Trapped in a dense fog, eight naval planes were wrecked and two pilots killed on a routine training flight last night. Rain washed away the fog at dawn today, disclosing the full toll to officers of the Pensacola naval air station.

Six student fliers escaped by bailing out in the darkness in their first parachute jumps. Four pilots landed safely in south Alabama.

Lieutenant G. F. Presser, Sr., a Brazilian navy officer receiving regular training here, died when his plane crashed and burned at Corry field, where land planes are quartered.

Lieutenant N. M. Ostergren was found in his wrecked and burned plane near McDavid, Fla., about 25 miles north of Pensacola. The fog kept his fate a mystery until after dawn, when scouting planes took to the air for a search of the entire section.

Ground Crews Helpless

Lieutenant J. P. Monroe, aide to the commandant, said there was nothing that anxious ground crews could do except wait for the pilots to jump. The planes, standard naval single-seater Boeings, with high landing speed that makes it difficult for them to alight on soft ground, were not equipped with radio.

Four of the deserted ships fell on the government reservation.

Trucks were sent to bring in the wrecked planes as each was located.

In addition to Lieutenant Presser, another Brazilian officer, Lieutenant A. C. P. Horta, was in the group. He leaped to safety.

The two Brazilian officers were in training under a long-standing naval policy of aiding South and Central American countries to prepare their fighting forces, said those close to the air station.

These two, reported to be the only foreign officers now in training here, were on their final test flight along with the other students. They were flying in Squadron Five, which is equivalent to a concluding examination of their fitness as fliers.

The six student pilots who reached ground safely by parachute jumps in inky darkness were:

Lieutenant Alfonso C. T. Horta of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Lieutenant E. G. Orborn, 26, of St. Helena, Calif.; Cadet G. E. Chalmers, 25, Rutland, Vt.; Lieutenant Thomas R. Cummins, 26, of Washington, D. C.; Cadet C. W. Harbert, 28, of Bristol, W. Va.; and Lieutenant Richard E. Harmer, 28, of Seattle, Wash.

Three instructors and a student pilot headed north to outrun the fog. Lieutenant W. G. Jackson of Vienna, Ill.; Lieutenant J. H. Brett of Savannah, Ga.; and Cadet J. E. W. Whitener of High Point, N. C., landed safely at the Atmore, Ala., airport. Cadet A. C. McDonough of Newark, N. J., made a safe landing at Greenville, Ala., with a brother, Army Reserve Pilot F. E. McDonough, as a passenger. His ship was equipped to carry two.

Franco Cheered on Entering Barcelona

Barcelona (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco made a triumphal entry today into Barcelona, captured Jan. 26 by his Nationalist troops.

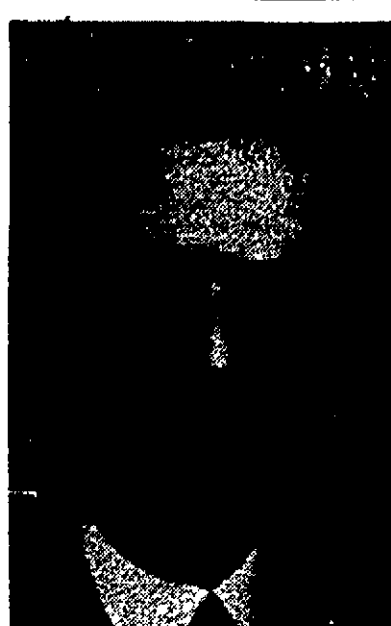

He was accompanied by General Fidel Davila, commander-in-chief of the Northern Nationalist army, and was escorted by a Moorish bodyguard. The cheers of 750,000 persons greeted the conqueror.

No, gentle reader, the headline "Bergen's Proposed Trailer City" in The Post-Crescent the other day did not mean that Charlie McCarthy has his monocled eye on some new investment for Edgar Bergen's spare cash. The title referred to Bergen County, N. J. Careless reading often means the loss of useful information or of a fine opportunity to earn money. ## IN RATES FIGHT

Madison (AP)—Chairman Fred S. Hunt of the Wisconsin Public Service Commission announced today he would go to Washington next week to oppose legislation sponsored by southern states for new rules fixing inter-territorial freight rates. Hunt said proposed changes, to be considered by the congressional committee, would give southern and southwestern states lower rates on north-bound shipments and force northern industry to pay higher rates on southbound traffic.

Wittenberg Will Testify Against
His Co-Defendant

Accuses Drews of Being
'Brains' of Attempted
Extortion Plot

Milwaukee (AP)—Attorney Michael M. Wittenberg, co-defendant with Walter A. Drews, investigator for the state board of health, charged with attempted extortion, was listed as a state witness today after signing a waiver of immunity and charging Drews with being the "brains" of the plot.

The attorney and Drews are being tried before Circuit Judge Walter Schinz, accused of attempting to obtain $2,000 from Dr. Leland Trump, a physician, under threat of permanent revocation of his medical license. They pleaded innocent and waived jury trial.

Wittenberg turned state's evidence yesterday over protests of Roland J. Steinkamp, Drews' attorney, telling Steinkamp he became a state witness, Wittenberg said.

"I made up my mind at the onset that regardless of where the chips fell I was going to tell the truth."

"Are you expecting leniency?" Steinkamp asked.

"No."

Oliver L. O'Boyle, county prosecutor, declared it was not improper to call the defendant as a witness, to which Steinkamp returned:

"Hell! Tell Truth!"

"Drews will sign some waivers and become a state's witness, too, and he'll tell the truth."

Wittenberg testified Drews at a tavern meeting had said to him:

"Mike, I've got something which is very delicate to handle. If you slip it might cost you your law license and my job. For myself I don't care. I've been with the board of health many years and I didn't make much money. I'm going to retire and make some money for both of us."

Drews, Wittenberg said, related that Dr. Trump was "in a jam" but that he didn't have to file the report against the doctor if he didn't want to. He finally told me it was worth $2,000 to the doctor."

(Dr. Trump testified yesterday he was accused on paper of having agreed to perform abortion operations on two board investigators.)

Order Gives Bull Only
What He Already Has

Racine, Wis. (AP)—An order filed in probate court yesterday for payment of legacies to W. Perkins Bull, Toronto attorney, revealed he would receive nothing from the estate of Mrs. Maybelle Horlick Sidley which he does not already have in his possession.

Bull, at whose home Mrs. Sidley died last July, was bequeathed $250,000 plus a third of her residuary estate. The will was attacked by her son, William Horlick Sidley, 27, and a settlement was reached Jan. 24 in which it was announced, Bull renounced his claim to the residuary third.

The order showed that instead of $250,000, Bull and his family would retain a trust fund, jewelry, furniture and a certain mortgage.

Liquor Funds

State Senate Rejects Measure to Exclude Them
From Benefits

BALLOT IS 19 TO 11

White Charges Measure
Backed by Milwaukee
Tavernkeepers

Madison (AP)—The senate refused today to deprive dry communities of their share of the state liquor tax.

It killed, 19 to 11, the bill of Senator Busby (P) West Allis, apportioning the revenues only to communities licensing the sale of liquor and beer.

Among the villages affected would have been Richland Center, home of Vernon Thomson, Republican assembly speaker. The village would have lost $5,000 a year.

Busby maintained that towns barring the sale of liquor are not entitled to any of the taxes, and, if they had their choice, would refuse any of this "tainted" money.

Charging the bill was supported by Milwaukee tavernkeepers, Senator White (R) River Falls, predicted it would bring a reaction in rural districts where there had been good reason for dry ordinances and would hasten return of prohibition.

The senate also killed, without discussion, the Sheerer bill permitting a governor to fill a United States senatorial vacancy occurring more than six months prior to a regular election.

Heil Criticized

The Heil administration came in for more criticism from the Progressive bloc with a statement by Senator Risser (P) Madison, that its only constructive action so far was to order state employees to "turn off the lights" and "clean up cigar butts."

Risser sought to have his bill re-transferring the securities division to the banking commission withdrawn from committee and reported out for action. Simultaneously Senator Coakley (R) Beloit, introduced a bill to establish the securities division as an independent department under a director and deputy.

The division was one of 26 involved in repeal of LaFollette reorganization orders. The former governor had transferred it from the public service to the banking commission.

Risser's motion to recall fell 19 to 11. Senator Young (D) Milwaukee, chairman of the corporations and taxation committee, objected to separate consideration until other measures of like nature can be heard.

Dewey and Dodge
Clash at Trial

Former District Attorney
And Present One in Verbal Duel

New York (AP)—A give-and-take duel between District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and the man he succeeded in office, William C. Dodge, made verbal sparks fly at today's session of the James J. Hines policy racket conspiracy trial.

The district attorney seemed serious as he opened his cross-examination; Dodge was smiling.

Dewey questioned Dodge about his friendship with Hines.

"Would you characterize it as the relationship of a mother to a son?" asked Dewey.

"Not ever having been a mother I can't say," replied Dodge.

Even Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., joined in the laughter, but Dewey was more serious than ever.

Under further questioning, Dodge said he could not recall ever having said anything bearing on a mother and son relationship, and Dewey then produced grand jury testimony of July 27, 1938, and read Dodge's statement that his friendship with Hines was like that of a mother to a son.

Dodge accused Dewey of twisting his meaning, explaining he meant he regarded Hines as innocent and that he was willing to defend his reputation as a mother would defend her son.

Bund Assails Some New Deal
Chiefs and 'International Jews'

New York (AP)—In a Nazi demonstration that filled vast Madison Square Garden, leaders of the German-American Bund stood last night under the sign of the swastika to denounce "international Jewry," some members of the Roosevelt cabinet, and any American alliance with European democracies.

While uniformed storm troopers marched interminably inside the garden—which an official estimate said held 20,000—a moving throng of anti-Nazi, theatergoers and the merely curious, melted about in the streets outside.

About 1,500 police reserves stood guard over the area, while violence erupted inside the garden and out.

As Fritz Kuhn, national leader of the bund, was concluding a peroration against Jews, Isidore Greenbaum, a slight, 26-year-old hotel worker, leaped upon the great stage and ran toward the speaker.

Instantly, a dozen or more storm troopers set upon him, knocking him down and beating him as he held his head in his arms, his black wild hair flying.

A squad of police pushed the storm troopers aside, picked him from the floor of the platform and, holding him high above their heads, ran to an exit. Most of his clothing was torn from his body.

Later, he was booked for disorderly conduct and held in $100 bail.

Outside the garden, 13 persons altogether were arrested in a series of fights involving the police—who

Practical Joker
Feeds Legionnaires
Kingfish; It's Carp

Kewaunee, Wis. (AP)—Joe Houdek, barber and practical joker, broke down and confessed today that the "kingfish" Kewaunee American Legionnaires ate for supper the other evening was plain carp—generally used hereabouts for fertilizer or chicken feed.

The Legionnaires had received cards inviting them to a fish supper at which the "kingfish"—supposedly sent from Florida by Henry Dana, Kewaunee man vacationing there—was to be served.

Compliments for the fish were frequent at the supper, and some guests had second, third and fourth helpings. Afterwards, the 50 men voted to pay a $5.80 bill for transportation charges on the fish.

Houdek, a member of the refreshment committee, said two other members who helped in the kitchen were unaware of the joke.

Assembly Votes
Inquiry in Farm,
Markets Bureau

Adopts Joint Resolution
Calling for Investigation

Madison (AP)—The assembly adopted today a joint resolution calling for an investigation of the department of agriculture and markets.

The resolution, introduced by Assemblyman Bichler (D) Belgium, Miller (R) La Crosse, Shimek (D) Algoma, and Swanson (P) Ellsworth, asserts "there has been laxity by the department in the administration and enforcement of the laws assigned to such department."

A five-man committee of two senators and three assemblymen will investigate all charges.

The assembly concurred in a senate bill restricting income tax exemptions to the period in which dependents are supported. Under the present law, taxes are assessed according to the status of the individual at the end of the calendar year, disregarding the contingency of a person who had supported a dependent who died before the end of the year.

The assembly refused, 53 to 38, to reconsider a vote by which it engrossed and advanced toward passage a bill abolishing the Wisconsin Development Authority.

It also adopted resolutions memorializing congress to enact a higher tariff on agricultural products and to pass the agricultural equity act.

Mystery Shrouds
Disappearance of Bachelor Farmer

Morris, Ill. (AP)—Mystery today surrounded the disappearance of Abner Nelson, 38, wealthy bachelor farmer whose model farm is located four miles north of here.

Sheriff H. J. Hoyt considered a theory that Nelson was a victim of foul play. He said he found what appeared to be human blood in the driveway of Nelson's farm and that there was evidence of a scuffle.

"Nelson may have been kidnapped or met with foul play," the sheriff said. "His disappearance is a complete mystery to me. It looks as though Nelson was knocked down and then got up and staggered around."

The prosperous farmer was last seen Saturday night. His disappearance was reported yesterday by his brother, Sidney, who operates a nearby farm. Sidney said he found his brother's car in the garage and the door of the house unlocked.

Nelson's father, Ole Nelson, 70, added to the mystery when he reported finding a blood-soaked newspaper near his farm, five miles distant.

25 are Indicted on
Mail Fraud Charges

New York (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Albert H. Branson, of Cleveland, 24 other individuals and three corporations on mail fraud and conspiracy charges, in connection with the sale of oil royalties to crooks.

The 12-count indictment accused the defendants of operating a scheme to defraud investors of about $1,000,000.

Among the defendants was Benjamin West Bunker, said by Assistant United States Attorney William P. Maloney to have been used by Branson as "window dressing."

Maloney said that at least 12 persons named in the indictment had criminal records and that a majority were at the moment fugitives from justice.

He said Branson dominated the three corporations indicated—Reliance Underwriting corporation, Commonwealth Trust company, a Delaware corporation, and Underwriters Management corporation.

2 Men Face Charges of Misusing WPA Funds

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Two more persons in the federal government's dwindling list of defendants indicted last October for alleged misuse of New Mexico's WPA were scheduled today to be tried in federal court today on charges of converting WPA labor to their own use.

The defendants, A. F. Drury and Homer F. Harbert, both of Roswell, N. M., were two of seven left to face trial on similar charges this week, after two indictments charging eight defendants with conversion of WPA materials to their own use were dismissed yesterday on a motion by the prosecution.

4 Billion May
Not be Enough,
Premier Says

Chamberlain Asks Commons to Approve New Limit for Borrowing

PROTEST TO JAPAN

Foreign Office Angered
Over Alleged Attack
At Hong Kong

London (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today sought house of commons approval for raising the limit of Britain's borrowing for her great arms program to $800,000,000 ($4,000,000,000) and warned attentive members that even this huge sum might not be enough.

The premier opened the second day of full dress defense debate with a reminder that $800,000,000 ($3,900,000,000) was scheduled for armaments expenditure in the next year alone—a sum equal to almost the entire national debt in 1914.

He spoke after the foreign office announced a strong protest to Tokyo over alleged Japanese air bombardment inside Hong Kong—an outpost of the empire the rearmament program is designed to keep intact.

Sees "Bankruptcy"

Chamberlain admitted that the armaments race if continued "must lead to bankruptcy for every country in Europe."

But, he said, a disarmament conference at present is "not a practicable proposition" since there is not sufficient evidence to show that it had a chance of success.

"A conference that failed would be worse than no conference," he said.

Then he indicated that Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, might be compelled to ask for further loans, since the estimated expenditure of $1,250,000,000 ($6,250,000,000) for the first three years of the five-year, $1,500,000,000 ($7,500,000,000) rearmament program launched in 1937 would leave only $250,000,000 ($1,250,000,000) for the last two years.

Would Halt Race

Chamberlain promised the house to "watch for every opportunity that may come of persuading other countries of the folly of the course we all are pursuing."

It would be "criminal," he said, not to attempt to halt the arms race. In a conciliatory reference to dictators, he added: "It would not be a bad thing if we ourselves showed a little more confidence and did not allow ourselves to believe every tale that comes to us about the aggressive intentions of others."

In this connection he took a slap at Winston Churchill, rebel Tory, as "bogy number one."

Previously he had defended Britain's abandonment of the League of Nations policy of collective security.

Bones Spur Probe
Of Slaying Story

Two Convicts Say They Killed Father and Two Sons Seven Years Ago

Salem, Ore. (AP)—Spurred by discovery of a child's bones on a Texas ranch, authorities checked anew today the bizarre story of two convicts that they had killed a father and his two sons seven years ago.

More than two years ago Claud and Elmer Tenison, brothers serving 18 years each in Oregon penitentiary for bank robbery, told prison authorities they had killed J. M. Cone near Perryton, Texas, because he failed to pay $1,000 he had promised them for slaying his two sons, J. M. Cone, Jr., 10, and Vernon Cone, 6.

Authorities discounted the story at that time. Sheriff J. S. Talley of Perryton wrote Oregon prison officials that the Tenisons "are only trying to get moved from there with the hope of getting a chance to escape."

Saturday, however, the bones of a child were found 25 miles south-east of Perryton, at about the place where the Tenisons told authorities, the Cone children had been buried.

State Parole Board Members Gerald Mason and Cecil Edwards questioned Claud and Elmer, 42, yesterday and said they repeated their story of the triple killings.

The brothers told the parole board members that Cone agreed to pay them $1,000 to kill his two sons because he didn't want to be encumbered with them when he "ran off with another woman."

Nine Persons Killed
In Hong Kong Bombing

Hong Kong (AP)—Nine persons, including a British Indian policeman, were killed today when Japanese warplanes bombed a railroad station inside the borders of this British crown colony.

Sir Geoffrey Northcote, governor of Hong Kong, after a personal investigation, sent report to London requesting the British consular general in Canton vigorously to protest to the Japanese government.

The raid led to the influx of several thousand refugees from the heavily-bombed Chinese area adjacent to the Hong Kong border. In Shumchun village, just outside British territory, it was estimated the planes had caused more than 100 casualties among civilian Chinese.

House Votes to Continue
Functions of Export-
Import Bank

OVERRIDES ATTACKS

Bill Also Increases Maximum of Outstanding Securities

Washington (AP)—Over the protest of Republicans that the action might result in leading this nation into war, the house voted today to continue the functions of the export-import bank to June 30, 1941.

It passed and sent to the senate a measure extending the bank, and the commodity credit corporation, to that date. The bill also would raise from $500,000,000 to $900,000,000 the amount of securities the credit corporation could have outstanding at any one time.

Speaker Bankhead announced the roll call vote on passage as 280 to 77.

Earlier, the senate banking committee approved the same legislation.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and other Republicans had criticized loans advanced by the bank to China and other foreign countries, contending the advances were made to implement foreign policy.

The banking committee voted to limit loans by the bank to a total of $100,000,000.

Nature of Criticism

Some congressional critics of the Export-Import bank have contended its operations might involve the United States in foreign entanglements. They objected especially to the bank's recent approval of a $25,000,000 credit to China.

Secretary Hull expressed hope the bank's charter would be renewed without too many restrictions on its operations. He said he foresaw economic benefits to the United States from continued operation of the bank, especially in connection with trade relations in South America.

Waupaca County
Pioneer Succumbs

Farmer, 91, Lived in Two Rooms; Leaves $20,-
000 in Bank Account

Waupaca (AP)—Ira Jerome Bishop, 91, was found dead of a heart disease this morning at his farm in the town of Union, Waupaca county. Neighbors called Undersheriff Walter Jones when they noticed there was no smoke coming from Bishop's farm home. His body, fully clothed and still warm, was found in the yard.

Bishop, who lived alone in two rooms at the farm since the death of his wife five years ago, carried a bank book showing a cash balance of $20,000.

He was born Nov. 30, 1847 at Plymouth and was the fourth white child of that city. He attended school there and began teaching at Schoebogan Falls when 14 years of age. After teaching 14 years he moved to the town of Union. He married Catherine S. Wolfert at Plymouth Dec. 30, 1879. He taught school at Symco for a year after his marriage.

No immediate relatives survive.

The body has been removed to the Voss Funeral home at Manawa.

Heavy Guard as King
Launches Battleship

Newcastle, England (AP)—King George VI, guarded by more than 2,000 police, today launched Britain's great new battleship which bears the name of his father, King George V.

"May God bless her and those who serve in her," the king cried as the 35,000-ton ship shot down the waters into the river Tyne, the first battleship Britain has launched in more than 13 years and the first of a new group of monster vessels that will total at least nine.

Cardinals Will Meet
March 1 to Name Pope

Vatican City (AP)—Cardinals at the Vatican announced officially today they would meet in conclave March 1 to elect a new pope.

They previously had indicated they would start the conclave Feb. 28, with voting to begin the following day after Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and the two South American prelates arrived.

The Vatican announced, however, that the cardinals decided the opening ceremony would be March 1.

More Than 60 Merchants Will Offer Bargains on Dollar Day

Merchants of Appleton will give people of the city and vicinity unusual shopping opportunities when they hold another of the traditional Dollar day events Thursday.

The quality of the goods that will be offered and the great reduction in prices, the prospects of invigorating fair weather, and the number of stores that will be participating point towards one of the most well received and successful Dollar day events in the history of the city.

Winter goods will be sold at great savings to purchasers and the crowds that jam Appleton's downtown section will find smart new goods on the counters when the doors of stores open Thursday morning.

More than 60 stores in the city will join in the cooperative event,

Senator Austin (above), of Vermont, a Republican, told newspapermen in Washington that the administration's action in connection with the French plane purchases was "not unneutral, not provocative to any other nation, not an impediment to our own procurement program and not in violation of the army's priority rights to the latest developments in planes."

State Aids Must Not be Reduced, Counties Insist

County Boards Association Criticizes Heil Fiscal Plans

BY JOHN W. WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—From a powerful and non-partisan source today came a plainly stated criticism of Governor Julius P. Heil's executive budget and such of his financial policies as have thus far been formally revealed to the public.

The Wisconsin County Boards Association, most influential non-partisan lobby at the capitol, in a statement today declared that local government officials will be dissatisfied with the Heil administration fiscal plans as they now stand, and that the county boards are prepared to fight for the gains which they have won in many previous sessions.

Specifically, the association, through its legislative representative A. J. Thelen, spoke out against:

1. Cuts in state aids to counties, particularly for county normal school and other educational purposes.

2. Deficient estimates on old-age and dependent children's pension costs for the next two years.

3. Delegation to the three-man state emergency board composed of the governor and the legislative finance committee chairman of the power to cut all legislative appropriations, including state aids to localities up to 25 per cent when necessary.

4. Diversion of highway funds, which the governor already has publicly favored by legal means as a budget-balancing expedient.

Not Enough For Schools
The association led off by pointing out that the Heil budget will not provide enough money for the cost of operating the county educational systems for which the state itself sets up the standards and requirements.

It continued by pointing out that the Heil budget will leave state pension appropriations at exactly the same level they were the last two years under the LaFollette administration. It recommends no change whatever, either in liberalization of budgets, lowering of age limits, or removal of restrictions on pensioners.

Yet, the association maintained, "If old age assistance cases continue to increase during the coming biennium as they have in the last two years, it is estimated that the budget will be from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 short of carrying out the state's share of the increased cost."

Moreover, there is presently a shortage of $250,000 for the year in the state's share of dependent children's grants. "With no increase provided in the new state budget, the state must cut $250,000 short for the biennium. If normal increases in the rolls are considered, this shortage may well approach $1,000,000," Thelen asserted.

He added that "any changes such as making aliens eligible, increasing benefits, lowering eligibility age, eliminating the lien features, or increasing the state share of the cost will materially increase the amount that should be provided for in the budget."

The association recalled that it successfully opposed a similar effort by the LaFollette administration to have the emergency board wield the axe after the legislature goes home at the end of the session.

"Counties, cities, towns and villages well remember the troubles experienced when previous emergency boards enjoyed such powers, particularly in regard to road aid cuts."

Should Balance Budget
The state should raise sufficient funds to balance its budget, it was maintained. "Surely the state is able to make as close an estimate as the counties are required to do in establishing their budgets. If each unit of government is to stand on its own feet, state aids as set up in the budget must be paid in full. No board or commission should have power to cut the amounts provided by the legislature."

An evil of such practice, it was said, "is that it opens wide the door to 'good will' legislation, such as liberalization of pensions, without providing funds to carry the state's share of the expense involved."

In support of a bill now being advanced in the legislature, which would substantially boost state highway aids to localities, the association said that the "increases would impair the state's construction fund, proving the diversion of highway funds for other purposes is stopped."

This statement came in full contradiction to plans now being discussed quite openly by administration leaders, to tap the rich revenues for the state highway department to meet the revenue deficiencies which would otherwise have to be met by heavily increased taxation by the state.

"The state has been using the amount of money called for by the increase for purposes other than highway. It is the position of the association that until such time as license fees come close to covering the cost of highway construction and maintenance on all types of roads throughout the state, such funds should be used exclusively for road purposes," the statement declared.

The association cited figures to show that the present $3,000,000 allotment to counties for county trunk support is only 15.3 per cent of the total cost, that the $2,843,037 in aids to towns for town roads is only 51.9 per cent of the total cost of such roads; that the $468,012 aid to villages is only 38.4 per cent of their highway costs; and that the $3,565,000 aid to cities represents only 28.8 per cent of the cities' total expenditures for local roads and streets.

From these figures it is apparent that money which, in the past, has been diverted from the highway fund should be rightfully returned to local governments to relieve the tremendous burden now placed on real estate for highway purposes," Thelen declared.

4-H Achievement Members Will be Guests of Chamber

Annual Banquet Will be Held Friday Evening At Masonic Temple

Walter Wickert, route 2, Appleton, Outagamie county 4-H club leader for five years, will be honored at the annual 4-H club achievement banquet to be given by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce Friday evening at the Masonic temple. Wickert has been active on a number of 4-H committees and was prominent in the developing of the special 4-H bill project.

Harold Blanshan and Billy Tubbs, members of the Woodland Husters 4-H club, also will be honored at the banquet. For the last two years the youths have teamed together in demonstration work. They were awarded a trip to the state club camp at Madison, won the state agricultural championship at the state fair at Milwaukee demonstrating the "building of a Model Milk House." As a final award they attended the national club congress at Chicago last December when they met 4-H honor members from various states, Canada and Hawaii.

J. N. Kavanaugh, Brown county agricultural agent, and J. F. Magnus, Outagamie county agent, will be the speakers at the banquet. Kavanaugh will speak on "My Trip Through Ireland" and colored motion pictures will be shown. Magnus will speak on "The Organization of 4-H Clubs and Their Purpose."

Alex O. Benz, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans and vice president of the chamber of commerce will preside at the meeting and act as toastmaster. The program will open with group singing and Marvin Krahn, leader of the Crystal Star 4-H club, Seymour, will speak on "Appreciation of 4-H." Billy Tubbs and Harold Blanshan will talk on "How We Earned a Trip to the National Club Congress." There will be singing by a quartet composed of Lois Schreiter, Norana Trauba, Nathalie Trauba and Bernice Becher of the Pleasant Corners Happy Stitches 4-H club.

The program will close with the recitation of the club pledge led by Carol Krueger of the Kau-Tree club.

Members of the club who will be present are: Lois Schreiter, Norana Trauba, Nathalie Trauba and Bernice Becher of the Pleasant Corners Happy Stitches 4-H club.

The program will close with the recitation of the club pledge led by Carol Krueger of the Kau-Tree club.

Slaying Suspect Wants to Plead Own Case but Court Appoints 2 Defense Lawyers

Indianapolis—(AP)—William Ray Butsch, slaying a white gangster chief over his head, made his first appearance in court today since his indictment for the slaying of Mrs. Carrie Leilah Romig, said he would plead his own case.

Judge Dewey Myers, however, named two county pauper attorneys, Robert Carrico and Edward Ryan, to assist Butsch, 37-year-old former convict, in preparing his defense to the charge of murder in perpetration of a robbery. Conviction on the charge would carry a mandatory death sentence.

"That's O. K." said Butsch as the judge appointed the two attorneys. "I may let them present an argument or two but I want it understood that I'll plead my own case."

The judge set Thursday for formal arraignment on the indictment.

Eickman Buys House On Roosevelt Street

John Eickman has purchased a home and lot at 709 E. Roosevelt street from Mrs. Marion Murphy. The Eickman family has been residing at that address for some time. Lee Randerson, Little Chute, has purchased a 77-acre farm from his mother, Mrs. Bridget Randerson, town of Freedom. The real estate transfers have been filed with Stephen Peters, Outagamie county register of deeds. The following transfers also have been filed:

Verna Lom et al to Fred Frahm, part of a lot in the First ward, Appleton.
James Butler to Ida B. Taylor, a lot in the Third ward, Appleton.
Elmer H. Lawson to Gordon L. Schiffer, a lot in the Fourth ward, Appleton.

CATCH ABDUCTOR AND GIRL

Police had under arrest Townsend Davis, (right) 40-year-old gardener, as he tried to cross the California border into Arizona with 8-year-old Anne Sweltzer (right). Davis said he was taking the girl to an evangelist, but a morals charge is to be filed against him.

File Morals Charge Against Abductor Of 8-Year-Old Girl

El Centro, Calif.—(AP)—Maulced for a trip back to Pasadena to face a charge of child-stealing, 40-year-old Townsend Davis, gardener and church organist, told a shocking story today, police said, of his attempted flight to Arizona with golden-haired Anne Louise Sweltzer, 8.

The gaunt, hollow-cheeked man and his tiny companion were seized yesterday as his old sedan approached the state border.

Faint from an attack of nausea, Anne Louise was not able to be questioned, but admissions by Davis, Policewoman Anita Teft said, probably will result in morals charges being filed against him.

A medical examination was to be made of the girl to determine if she had been harmed.

"I guess I done something rash, but she wanted to leave home. I considered her home a bad environment for her," Davis was quoted as saying.

He told officers he had planned to take Anne Louise to Sonoma, Calif., where they were to visit the Rev. Virgil Vance, an evangelist, who has a daughter about the same age.

At Pasadena, the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sweltzer, indignantly denied she had been ill treated or led anything but "a happy, normal home life."

Pasadena police said they learned Davis had made frequent gifts to the girl and taken her on excursions, some of them unknown to her parents.

ment which accuses Butsch of killing Mrs. Romig in her apartment Jan. 17 and robbing her of $2,000 worth of jewelry.

Detective Chief Fred A. Simon said Butsch was carrying one of Mrs. Romig's diamond rings when arrested in Anderson Feib, 9 and had pawned other rings and pieces of a bracelet which the woman's husband, Harold Daniel Romig, 28, said had belonged to his wife.

Boasts Legal Knowledge
Simon said Butsch, boasting he "knew more law than the prosecutor," had expressed the intention of defending himself in court.

The defendant, who has served terms in Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin for running confidence games, passing bad checks and robbery, asked Sheriff Al Feeney for more note paper to prepare his defense.

Butsch's stepdaughter, Mrs. Lydia Hatfield, 21, of Glenasmole, Va., was released and a vagrancy charge against her was dismissed after Butsch was indicted.

She talked with Butsch 15 minutes at the jail, gave him a Bible and left for West Virginia with her husband, Fred, a coal miner who came here after she was arrested.

Prosecutor David M. Lewis said Mrs. Hatfield told detectives she would be willing to come back to testify at Butsch's trial.

Chief Simon said Butsch denied knowing anything about Mrs. Romig's murder and insisted he did not know the jewelry traced to him had been stolen.

Special Services Will Open Lenten Season Wednesday

Appleton Churches Prepare for Six Weeks of Pre-Easter Events

Ash Wednesday, the first day of lent, marks the opening of a six weeks' period of penance and self-denial for Christians which has its culmination in the Easter holiday. Most churches in Appleton, both Catholic and Protestant, will have special lenten services during the week, meanwhile curtailing to a great extent all social activity during this time.

An annual event in Appleton during the first week of lent is the World Day of Prayer which is observed the first Friday in lent by Interdenominational Council of Church Women. This year the services will be held at Emmanuel Evangelical church.

The first of a series of lenten institutes for adult members of Memorial Presbyterian church and their friends will take place Wednesday night beginning with a fellowship supper at 6:15. Worship in the sanctuary will be held at 7 o'clock and lecture and discussion groups will meet at 7:30. The supper will have an international flavor, the first to be a German supper.

Last Sunday morning the Rev. Robert E. Bell, pastor, spoke on "From Ideas to Ideals."

Lecture Series
At First Congregational church there will be a series of lectures on "The Story of the Church" by Dr. John B. Hanna, pastor, each Thursday evening following a pot-luck supper at 6 o'clock. The lecture period will begin at 7:10 with the singing of familiar hymns. Circle 1 of Woman's Association will be in charge of arrangements for the supper this week. At the morning service Sunday Dr. John B. Hanna spoke on "What is Salvation?"

Friendship suppers and devotional services every Thursday night will be a regular lenten feature at First Methodist church beginning this week. The supper will take place at 6:30 and the service will begin at 7:15. Dr. Harry C. Culver, pastor, will give a series of addresses on "The Early Church" and this week's talk will be on "The Mother Church." Last Sunday Dr. Culver preached on "Loving One's Enemies."

The blessing and distribution of palm leaf ashes is one of the age old ceremonies of the Catholic church in the observance of Ash Wednesday. The ashes are applied to the heads of the faithful to signify the beginning of the penitential season of lent and to remind them that they "are but dust and to dust they will return." Ashes will be distributed at St. Mary church after the 7 and 8 o'clock masses Wednesday morning and again after devotions at 7:30 in the evening. St. Mary church will have a sermon, rosary and benediction at 7:30 each Wednesday night during lent. Way of the Cross for the children and adults who wish to attend at 3:15 Friday afternoons and again at 7:30 Friday evenings. There will be services at 7:30 each Sunday evening. St. Mary congregation is preparing for a 2-week mission which will open next Sunday with the Rev. Father Costello in charge.

St. Therese Services
At St. Therese church the blessed ashes will be distributed after the 9 o'clock mass Wednesday morning and following services at 7:30 in the evening. Each Wednesday night during lent the Rev. A. J. Rejchle, O. Praem., of St. Norbert college, West DePere, will give a sermon at the church, and there will be stations of the cross Friday afternoon for the

Americans Eat With Germans on Cruise, but Don't Talk Politics

(Mrs. Jean Wiley Thiekens, who conducts the book review column for the Appleton Post-Crescent, is on a steamship tour around South America with her husband, R. E. Thiekens, of Menasha. The accompanying article is the first of several which she will write to describe her journey.)

Just 36 hours since we steamed past the statue of Liberty and already we are in the Gulf Stream; no mistaking that indigo blue color of the ocean which is so different from the gray-green color of the sea in our temperate zone. The Bremen, a 52,000-ton ship, is making its first voyage around South America. We are seated at the chief officer's table in the dining salon, with two charming American women and a young Frenchman from Paris, who have all over the world for his firm. A French chemical company, which also sells munitions though he soft pedals that fact. The first officer is a typical German, ruddy-faced, bows stiffly from the waist, wears a large gold seal ring with a swastika engraved on it. At first we thought he was "a stuffed shirt," because his sense of humor was quite rudimentary, but have since concluded that he must have something or he would not be the second in command on a ship like this. We sedulously avoid talking politics or international affairs.

The Bremen was due to pass thru the Panama Canal, the largest ship ever to navigate the Canal, even larger than the British battleship Hood. Our chief officer tells us that there will be just four feet clearance between the ship's sides and the canal, and seems a bit apprehensive that some of the precious paint may be scraped off the ship's sides as we pass thru the locks.

In a lecture after dinner last night the cruise director introduced our captain, who gave the Nazi salute several times when the passengers politely applauded him. The cruise director then imparted some salient facts regarding the trip such as the fast we would cover more than fourteen thousand miles in our journey around South America, and that when we reach Punta Arenas in the Straits of Magellan, we shall be in the farthest south city in the world, one thousand miles farther south than the Cape of Good Hope in South Africa.

At noon today we sighted our first land, the island of San Salvador which was the first land sighted by Christopher Columbus when he came to the western hemisphere. Thru binoculars it appears to be a rather desolate spot, bordered by orange colored sand, and coral reefs enclosing a tiny lagoon. There are a few straggling buildings topping the highest point of the island but it is not an inviting looking place. We do not stop but steam rapidly past for the ship must maintain its daily run of about 595 miles in each 24 hours that we are at sea.

On trans-Atlantic runs the Bremen carries about 1900 passengers (in three classes) but on these tropical cruises it carries only about four or five hundred, as many of the cabins would be unbearably hot with the outside temperature hovering around 95 degrees. In the forward lounge is a bronze statue of Hitler and fresh flowers are always blooming in front of that shrine. The food and service are perfection and the ship's crew and officers are courteous and friendly; perhaps they did not read Mr. Roosevelt's recent speech about "our boundaries henceforth being the Rhine River" or perhaps they are badly in need of American tourists' money.

Adequate Defense Is Guarantee of Peace, Dohr Says

Captain in Officers Reserve Addressed Lions Club

An adequate national defense was termed America's "best insurance against aggression" by Captain Raymond P. Dohr of the officers reserve at a meeting of the Appleton Lions club yesterday noon in the Conway hotel.

"Soldiers from ranking general down to the lowest buck private don't like war, but they do feel that we need an army strong enough to command respect among nations," Dohr said.

"Pointing to America's unmatched wealth, her industrial empire and most important, the freedom of her people, Dohr declared that to safeguard these values we must establish a defense that will discourage any attacks by foreign powers. Men who fought in the World War and know the anguish, unhappiness, and tragedy of modern warfare are the greatest advocates of peace, but they are determined that America shall not be caught unprepared," Dohr said.

"Think of the Americans who were sent to fight without proper training in the last war, of trying to make officers out of men in three months. We don't want to see that happen again."

Dohr reviewed provisions of the National Defense act of 1920 which set up a standing army, the national guard, reserve officers corps, and the citizens training camps.

subject, "Christ and His Church at the Gateway of Lent." Mid-week Worship
Mid-week lenten services will be held at St. Paul Lutheran church at 7:30 Wednesday night in German and Thursday night in English. The Rev. F. M. Brandt, pastor, will preach at both services. Last Sunday he spoke at the English service on "O Perfect Love," while the Rev. T. J. Sauer, honorary pastor, preached at the German service.

The Brotherhood of First Baptist church entertained the Hortonville Brotherhood last evening at the local church. There will be a public luncheon served by Women's Union Thursday noon at the church, and a prayer service Thursday evening. The annual musicale for Friendship class will take place Friday night at the home of Mrs. L. B. Powers, 63 N. Bellaire court.

On Ash Wednesday there will be a communion service at 7:30 in the evening at Trinity English Lutheran church, and lenten services will be held every Wednesday until Easter. Last Sunday the Rev. D. E. Bosserman, pastor, spoke on "Christian Diligence."

"Mind" was the subject of the lesson-sermon for Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist. The following citation was taken from the Bible: "Let every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification. For even Christ pleased not himself; if there be any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the spirit, if any bowels and mercies, fulfill ye my joy that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus."

refused permission of anti-nazis to picket the garden—and the followers and opponents of nazism. The first disturbance at the meeting involved Dorothy Thompson, newspaper columnist, who had shouted "nonsense" during a speech by G. W. Kunze, the bund's national publicity director.

Dorothy Thompson Stays
Amid shouts of "sit down" and "throw her out," a grey-haired storm trooper and two policemen started to hustle her from the building. She was allowed to remain upon her insistence that "American free speech" gave her the right to express disagreement with any speaker.

The most extraordinary police precautions in years had been made for the meeting. As it went on, for more than three hours, with parading, Nazi-saluting and band-playing, the epithets from the platform against Jews thundered ever harsher.

Mention of the names of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, Congressman Martin Dies (D-Texas), chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities; Senators Borah and Nye brought applause, while hisses arose in great roars when speakers called the name of Secretaries Perkins, Hopkins, Morgenthau, Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter and Attorney General Murphy.

There was much criticism of Roosevelt administration activities, but the most direct reference to the president himself was made by Kunze, who called the executive "Rosenfeld." There were boos and derisive shouts from the crowd.

"International Marxist Jews" and "international Jewish financiers" were blamed by various speakers for America's entrance into the World war, and for the depression. Kunze, bulky in his full uniform regalia, with a black Sam Browne belt across his chest, denounced particularly the sale of American airplanes to France.

"This, he shouted, was 'secretly' maneuvered through the department presided over by 'Secretary of the Treasury' Morgenthau."

Detroit—(AP)—Sinclair Lewis, author and playwright, said in a statement today that he was "extremely proud" of his wife, Dorothy Thompson, newspaper columnist, who narrowly escaped election from a German-American bund rally at New York last night for shouting "nonsense."

Lewis is appearing at a Detroit theater with his stage play, "Angela Is Twenty-Two."

Scandinavian Giant Laughs at Illinois 'Tallest Man' Claim

Out of Alton, Ill. today comes a story stating that Robert Wadlow, the boy giant, has grown an inch and gained 31 pounds the last year, thus making him "the tallest man in the world."

But Clifford Thompson, the Scandinavian giant and the "John Bunyan" of the New London Lions club, just laughs at Wadlow claims.

"Why that fellow is just a pigmy along side of me. Sure, he might weigh a few more pounds but I can look right over his head. You put a tape line on me—and be sure it's a long one—and you'll find I'm eight feet and seven inches tall, and that other guy is only eight feet 2 1/2 inches. He's just a pigmy."

Alton's youthful giant is celebrating his twenty-first birthday today and claims his weight to be 460 pounds. The giant from Scandinavia weighs 460 pounds. Wadlow is to be the guest of honor at a birthday party to be given by the Alton townspeople and his friends to-night.

Real Rival
"I wonder how it is that they haven't heard of me," Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Thompson, said in commenting on the Alton report that Wadlow's closest authentic rival was perhaps the famed "Irish giant," Charles Byrne (O'Brien), who an authority says was more than eight feet 4 inches when he died in 1873, at the age of 23.

The Wadlow's modest little residence was not big enough to accommodate tonight's party crowd so it will be staged at the Masonic temple, where the Order of DeMolay, in which Robert holds membership, will honor him with a formal majority ceremony. There will be a "regular size" birthday cake with 21 candles.

Despite his stratospheric proportions and continued growth which has baffled doctors throughout the world, Robert, shy, bespectacled youth who likes to be called Bob, enjoys good health. His father, Harold F. Wadlow, a normal sized man, said he hasn't even had a bad cold this winter.

Housing Problem
Thompson's housing and clothing problems are similar to those of Wadlow. Thompson, who has a reach of 103 inches, sleeps in an

Pepper Approves Townsend Plan

Florida Senator Gives Qualified O. K. to Age Pension Proposal

Washington—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) giving a qualified endorsement today to the Townsend old age pension plan, asserted that "we can never solve the economic situation unless we develop machinery to stimulate and improve the purchasing power of the consumer."

Testifying at hearings before the house ways and means committee, the senator said the Townsend plan providing for payment of monthly pensions up to $200 to persons over 60 was "in the right direction" and "has merit in it."

He said it dealt with economic problems in a fundamental way because it proposed to keep money circulating.

Pepper sought to back up his point by citing the government's spending record. The government, he said, put $10,000,000 or $12,000,000,000 into consumer purchasing power from 1933 to 1936, and economic conditions improved to the point where they were comparable with 1929.

Then in 1937, he said, the government turned over only $985,000,000 net into consumer buying power channels, a slump hit the nation and no improvement appeared until the government again resumed its former policy last year.

"I believe customers and not imaginary confidence will give confidence to the nation," he said.

Internal Friction on Airplane Sale Might Have Been Avoided

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Senator Warren Austin of Vermont is a staunch party man and he is the ranking Republican on the senate military affairs committee. He hasn't any fondness for the New Deal or any of its works and has said so publicly and privately on enough occasions to establish him certainly as far from an administration supporter. In fact, by all the tests that can be offered at the moment, he is about as competent a judge of whether President Roosevelt violated the neutrality of America by ordering bombing planes to be sold to France as anybody in the government could be under the present circumstances.

And Senator Austin says frankly that, after an exhaustive study of the whole episode, he has come to the conclusion that the sale of the planes to the French was a good thing, that it did not involve any secret alliances with a foreign country, and that, on the whole, the sale was beneficial rather than detrimental to our own military establishment.

Mr. Austin remarked to reporters that his patriotism came first and his Republicanism second, which was only another way of saying that, when national defense questions arise, he would not allow partisanship to influence what he was willing to say publicly, even though it happened to be a word that vindicated a position taken by a political opponent.

Hasty Prejudices
This attitude on the part of Senator Austin is important, because, for a while, Republicanism suffered here the charge that it was dragging partisanship into national defense. The Vermont senator's frank declaration will do a great deal to offset the hasty prejudices which were formed throughout the country among those who were beginning to see President Roosevelt as anxious to "drag America into war."

So far as can be ascertained today, the whole episode about the sale of the planes to the French was a sort of tempest in a teapot. It had its origin unquestionably in fears that arose among army officers here that France would get a priority of delivery which would interfere with production of planes for our own use, or that the French would have some superior machine to ours. It is true also that, when there was a conflict of view inside the government, the president had to take full responsibility for making a decision, and after getting data and advice from all sides, came to the conclusion that the war department was unduly apprehensive. With the passage of time, it is evident also that the army officers now feel that the objections they had have been met by further information.

"Beneficial"
Senator Austin declares that the sale of the planes did not violate any neutrality laws and that the order from the French for airplanes stepped up American production, thereby being both "promotional and beneficial." It will be recalled that the president gave as his reason for approving the sale that our own factories would be put into more rapid production through the French order, and that in this way American aircraft facilities would be improved. Then, too, it turns out that, with the changes that have to be made in airplanes to meet shifting conditions, the planes which the United States is designing for later construction will have outmoded some of those sold to the French.

Authentic information has been developed in the senate's inquiry to show that fulfillment of foreign orders is not going to interfere with the making of aircraft for the use of the United States army, and that nothing has been done which will impair the quality or superiority of our aircraft.

Internal Friction
Looking back over the affair which was seized upon for some rather vehement comment here on Capitol Hill, it may be that the internal friction relating to airplane sale might have been avoided. But the very fact that Capitol Hill becomes acquainted with incidents of this sort is the best assurance to the public that, under a bi-partisan system of government, someone will be on the alert to tell the people if anything of a secret commitment is made which could by any stretch of the imagination drag the American people into a war against their own wishes.

The action of the house Republicans, whose special committee under the chairmanship of Representative James Wadsworth—a former chairman himself, at one time, of a senate committee on military affairs—gave its support to the main outline of the administration's defense program, may now be coupled with that of Senator Austin, and the fact clearly established to all the world that both major parties are united in their concern for the upbuilding of America's defenses in this critical period of European history.

Writer Explains Rome-Berlin Axis and Anti-Comintern Pact

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York —(AP)—In these days of Vesuvian crises which keep erupting, first in the Far East and then in Europe, two alliances are constantly in the world's eye — the Rome-Berlin axis and the anti-Comintern pact.

"And just what," asks a reader, "are the Rome-Berlin axis and the anti-comintern pact? We see them in print every day, but frankly I have little notion of the whys and whys of them. Please explain."

That would seem to be a reasonable request, so let's take a look at these characterizations.

The Rome-Berlin axis is merely a broad term applied to the political relationship between Italy and Germany.

Specifically it doesn't mean anything more than that the two countries are friends.

Spurred Sanctions
The axis is an outcome of Mussolini's Ethiopian conquest. When the League of Nations slammed sanctions on it due in an effort to halt his invasion, Hitler declined to participate and gave moral support to his ally-to-be.

After that the activities of the axis grew rapidly. In October of 1936 the two totalitarian chieftains signed an accord under which they agreed to cooperate politically and economically in the Danubian basin by which was meant Austria, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria. Germany was given special economic privileges in Ethiopia.

As time progressed Hitler and Mussolini supported Insurgent Leader Franco in the Spanish war and stood side by side in the critical days when their intervention threatened to precipitate a general European conflict.

Mutual Support
The two have backed each other in numerous crises. Mussolini, for example, supported Hitler morally when the latter staged his Austrian and Czechoslovak coups. The fuhrer reciprocated recently by declaring that "there is no doubt that a war against the Italy of today, launched for no matter what motive, will call Germany to the side of her friend."

Now for the anti-comintern pact. The comintern is the communist internationale, which is the organization of the communist party of all nations.

Communism is, of course, Hitler's pet hate, just as it was the challenge which inspired Mussolini to found fascism to combat it. In 1936 Hitler conceived the idea of getting other nations to join in an anti-comintern pact, the purpose of which would be to fight communism in every way possible. The pact came into being on Nov. 25, 1936, when it was signed by Japan and Germany.

The Rome-Berlin axis was brought into the pact in a big way on Nov. 6, 1937, when Mussolini joined. Hungary is the latest country that has agreed to subscribe.

In Japan, suicide is recognized as the most acceptable means of meeting responsibilities, atoning for mistakes, or satisfying the claims of honor.

Use of Own Products At City Home Results In Saving of $1,135

Based upon current prices, the City home last year saved $1,135.37 through raising and using its own products, according to a report of F. A. W. Hammond, city relief director. A large garden is maintained at the farm and farm animals and poultry are kept.

Following are the amounts of the various items produced: milk 5,994 pounds, buttermilk 103 pounds, butter 136 pounds, cottage cheese 206 pounds, fresh eggs 326 dozen, packed eggs 20 dozen, chickens 326 pounds, beans 221 quarts, beets 61 quarts, beans and carrots 25 quarts, sauerkraut 108 quarts, cherries 19 quarts, rhubarb 23 quarts, tomatoes 49 quarts, sweet tomatoes 26 quarts, tomato juice 4 quarts, apple jelly 77 quarts, grape jam 14 quarts, peach marmalade 5 quarts, apple sauce 54 quarts, onions 200 pounds, potatoes 12 bushels, corn 7 bushels, beets 5 bushels, carrots 5 bushels, cabbage 60 pounds, 30 squash, rutabagas 1 bushel, pickles 19 quarts, catchup 22 quarts, pickled green tomatoes 14 quarts, chili sauce 13 quarts, piccalilli 6 quarts, and 8 tons of hay.

Americans Want Safety but Hate to Take Sides to Get It

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—Even United States senators sometimes act on gossip, which accounts for the action of the senate military affairs committee in questioning Hugh R. Wilson, American ambassador to Germany.

The senators didn't get as much as they wanted out of Wilson because his rough edges were smoothed off long ago through years in the diplomatic service. He knows how not to give all the answers.

Sensors had heard gossip in Washington that Ambassador Wilson wasn't enthusiastic about Roosevelt's decision to call him back from Berlin as a gesture of protest against Nazi outrages on the Jews. The whispered version is that Wilson, and for that matter some in the state department, didn't think Roosevelt used wisdom in the kind of gesture he made—the recall of an ambassador. In the trusty old phrase, they were in sympathy with the objective but not with the method. On the basis of that gossip, the senators decided to question Wilson.

The episode reflects smothered distrust of Roosevelt's recent handling of foreign affairs. Republicans in both house and senate have conducted themselves with remarkable restraint. Only occasionally does a Republican cut loose about the administration foreign policy. Therefore the absence of public discussion in congress is a misleading index. Republican leaders in both houses do not wish their people to take the lead in criticism of administration foreign policy, less they be open to the charge of playing politics with foreign affairs. That is, they believe it is smarter politics not to play politics with this issue. Particularly since Democrats are fighting among themselves over it. And also since there are signs of much public opposition around the country. The Republican attitude is that when something is going sour on its own, why not let nature take its own course?

Strong Protest Against Secrecy In Plane Affair

Reports coming in from observers around the country indicate that Roosevelt's handling of the recent French plane episode actually checked a rising tide of sympathy for the democracies of Europe. There is strong protest against the secrecy that was attempted in that affair.

Sentiment as canvassed in the grassroots appears overwhelmingly against being dragged into another foreign war, and people feel that assistance could not be limited to economic aid as Roosevelt proposes.

Worst of all Roosevelt, instead of clarifying our policy and clarifying his intentions, has only added to the confusion about them. People are suspicious of trial balloons in foreign affairs. It creates uneasiness as to what is going on.

Running through all of this is a subject, avoided in print but quite frankly discussed by word of mouth — anti-Semitism. Rapid growth of this feeling is reported in some localities. The feeling frequently takes the form of a question, "Are we going to fight a war to save the Jews in Germany?"

Duck The Conclusion We Must Do Something

In explanation it has been suggested to me by one observer that this phenomenon is not so much actual feeling over Semitism as it is a perverted form of objection to intervention in Europe.

Nobody likes Hitler. Nobody

Common Sense About Constipation

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with constipation is get at its cause. That way you don't have to endure it first and try to cure it afterward—you can avoid having it.

Chances are you won't have to look far for the cause if you eat the super-refined foods most people do. Most likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this is what you lack, try crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains just the "bulk" you need.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Mild Influenza Reported in City Not Epidemic Form

City Physician Describes Symptoms; Advises Isolation of Patients

State health officials were concerned today with outbreaks of colds and influenza of mild form in southeastern Wisconsin, particularly Milwaukee, Fond du Lac and Madison, according to the Associated Press.

Dr. John C. Troxel, Appleton city physician, said this morning there is influenza in Appleton but not in epidemic form. Schools reported about normal attendance and drug stores reported no unusual increase in the sale of prescriptions for influenza.

Dr. C. Harper, state health officer, described the disease in southern Wisconsin as grippé, or influenza less deadly than that which ravaged the nation during the World war days.

"I am afraid," Dr. Harper said, "we may be hard hit in Wisconsin because conditions in Illinois and Michigan indicate there is a great deal of disease in this part of the country."

Suggests Isolation. Dr. Troxel said the only satisfactory means of avoiding the disease is isolation and the avoidance of contact with sick persons. He described the symptoms of influenza to include sudden onset of chilliness, severe aching sensations throughout the body, headaches and backaches, sore throat and fever after a chill.

The city physician advised persons with colds or influenza to avoid contact with others, to go to bed immediately and call their family physician. "The patient has a better chance to fight the disease and fewer complications are apt to develop if he goes to bed immediately," Dr. Troxel said.

Historical data on influenza shows that the disease occurs in regular cycles of from 20 to 25 years, the city physician explained. The epidemic usually comes in three waves, the first a mild form, the second more severe accompanied by complications and the third more severe than the second. Persons who have had the disease are not immune to a second attack, he said.

Snow Tonight, Is Bureau's Outlook

Fair Tomorrow, Is Forecast; Three Above Today's Low

Light snow tonight, with fair weather Wednesday, was the forecast for Appleton and vicinity issued today by the Milwaukee bureau.

The thermometer reached a 24-hour low at 8 o'clock this morning when it registered three above, according to charts at the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company. Sunshine and blue skies tempered today's brisk temperatures. The mercury had climbed to 14 above by 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The mercury dropped as much as 20 degrees and cut short today an unscheduled visit of sunny weather to the eastern United States, the Associated Press reported.

Snow was general throughout the middle west, where some sub-zero readings were taken, rain dispelled fog in Florida and readings in the 20's were reported in Texas.

Two pilots were killed and eight mangled planes were wrecked when trapped in the heavy fog over Florida. Six other student flyers on the routine training trip escaped in the darkness by using their parachutes for the first time.

New Englanders saw the mercury slide from yesterday's 66 to 26 today while the weather bureau predicted continued cold.

Light snow in upstate New York accompanied a drop of 26 degrees in 24 hours to 11.6. The mercury was down to 36 in New York city and fair and moderately cold weather was predicted.

A cold wave was chilled northern middle western states. Minnesota lows included 45 below at Park Rapids and 32 below at Wadena.

The danger of high water was reduced in southeastern Michigan as the mercury fell to below 20. Snow fell during the night in many sections and colder weather was forecast.

Daniel Webster Mead Gets Engineers' Award

Chicago—(P)—Daniel Webster Mead, of Madison, Wis., former president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, received the Washington award in engineering at a dinner in his honor last night.

Aldermen to Check Petitions Asking Salary Reductions

The ordinance committee has invited the rest of the city council to a meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in city hall to check voters' signatures on petitions asking aldermen to cut their own wages from $500 to $250 per year.

More than 1,600 signatures were submitted to the council on the petitions and the city clerk officially certified 1,578 of them as being bona fide when he introduced the voters' request at the last council meeting.

The council unanimously voted to refer the petitions to the ordinance committee for consideration.

Several aldermen at that meeting defended the scale of wages for aldermen and another scored the Post-Crescent for the publicity given the issue.

The petitions, in effect ask aldermen to cut their own wages to $250 per year or to submit the question to a referendum in the spring election.

Favors Income Tax On Federal, State Employees' Salaries

Washington—(P)—Senator Brown (D-Mich.) told the senate finance committee today federal and state salaries should be taxed as a matter of "practical justice."

Brown, chairman of a special senate committee to consider reciprocal taxation of state and federal securities and salaries, reported the views of the special committee at a finance committee hearing on house-approved legislation authorizing states to tax federal salaries and giving the federal government power to levy an income tax on state and local salaries.

"From an economic standpoint federal salaries should be subject to state taxation and state salaries should be subject to federal taxation," Brown declared. "The main justification lies in the fact that it is unjust to lay a burden on one class of earning citizens and not tax another class."

DEATHS

Wife-Slapper Gets Slapped for $100

Chicago—(P)—Another wife-slapping case was heard in court yesterday and this time it was the slapper who was slapped—to the extent of a $100 fine.

In a recent case of wife-slapping before Judge P. J. Finnegan the ruling favored the husband, who was told that "some wives should be slapped occasionally."

Yesterday's case was that of George Kunch, who appeared before Judge Leon Edelman charged with disorderly conduct—his wife complained he had slapped her.

But the two jurists did not agree—in fact, Judge Edelman told Kunch he heartily disagreed with Judge Finnegan. Then he told Kunch:

"Woman is the weaker sex and, instead of abuse, she needs protection."

Kunch was placed on probation for six months after Judge Edelman suspended the $100 fine.

Students Given Glimpses of 'The Late Christopher Bean'

Tantalizing glimpses of "The Late Christopher Bean" were presented to the assembly of Appleton High school by members of the cast Monday afternoon. This 3-act comedy by Robert Sherwood is being produced by the junior class and will be presented Friday evening.

Miss Kathryn Frahm, speech instructor and play director, introduced the characters and sketched the general plot for her audience. Then came the previews in quick succession. There was Dr. Haggitt, worried and upset by the possibility of great riches, ably portrayed by Tom Nolan. And then there was Mrs. Haggitt, Yankee to the core, but anxious, too, for riches that she may fulfill her ambitions to be "cityfied." Ardrey Peters interprets the character.

The romantic interest is provided by Warren Greaser, a personable young paperhanger who has aspirations to be an artist one day, and Susan Haggitt, petite but shrewdly Yankee withal. Donald Bohl and Bertha Smyreones have the roles. Ada Haggitt, Susan's 26-year-old sister who still fancies her naïve airs, is jealous of her sister's charm. Mary Brandenberg plays the character.

Others in the cast are Bill Mullin, who plays the part of the cultured art critic, Davenport; Mary Ellen Notaras, who will interpret the role of Abby, the maid who grows in importance as the play progresses; David Smith, who is Rosen, the crafty art dealer; and David Bliss, who will take the role of Talant, the unscrupulous forger who first cheats the doctor and then wants to "make a deal."

Even though he is dead, the memory and paintings of Christopher Bean are the source of the play's conflict. According to the story, Chris Bean was a New England painter who died leaving only a few solid canvases to pay for his doctor bills. Ten years later the works of Bean come into their own heritage, and the doctor and his family are overwhelmed to learn that the scorned "daubs" are now worth a fortune. In the mad scramble that follows the characters evolve. The only one who is untouched by the greedy desire for wealth is Abby, to whom the memory of Christopher Bean is a tender, unmercenary thing. And it is this strong New England devotion of Abby which accounts for the surprise ending.

"The Late Christopher Bean" was a Broadway success in 1932 when Walter Connolly, now a film star, interpreted

Council to Set City Salaries at Meeting Tonight

Aldermanic Committee Will Report on Study of WPA Employment

Kaukauna—Salaries of city officials will be set at the common council meeting at 7 o'clock tonight at the municipal building. The state law provides that salaries be fixed at the first meeting in February. The matter was postponed from Feb. 7 to tonight's adjourned meeting when Alderman T. L. Seggelink, finance committee head, said he wanted a definite recommendation from the fire and police commission as to the salary of the chief of police, who now receives $1,935. Other salaries will remain the same, Seggelink told the council.

The wage of one new city official, the superintendent of public works, created last fall, will be up for fixing. This was tentatively set at $1,800 when the 1939 budget was drawn. The new official came into being when the north and south road district system, in effect for more than 50 years, was abolished, with supervision now exercised by the two road commissioners to be vested in the new superintendent.

Will Offer Report
Three aldermen, Jules Mertes, Edward Steidl and Otto M. Lüdke, conferred with the state WPA director at Madison Feb. 13 regarding WPA employment conditions here, and will report on the matter to the council at its meeting tonight.

The board of public works will report on its report last night, and the city treasurer will give the standing of the city's departments under this year's budget.

Sinclair Cagers to Compete in Tourney

Kaukauna—The Sinclair Oils Kaukauna independent five sponsored by Joe Conrad, has entered the seventh annual Fox river valley basketball tournament to be held at Little Chute March 2 to 5, according to Manager Stan Beguhn. ### Kaukauna Cagers Drill for Last 2 Games on Schedule

Little's Squad Slated to Meet New London, Clintonville

Kaukauna—At an even 500 per centage with five games won and five lost Coach Paul E. Little's cagers begin preparing this week for the season's final two games, with New London on the Bulldogs' court Friday and here against Clintonville March 3.

The Kaws may reasonably look forward to a win over Clintonville but New London will be a different matter. The Bulldogs haven't forgotten an 18 to 16 loss they suffered here Jan. 6, and will be out for revenge. The Kaws beat Clintonville 33 to 13 on the Truckers' court for their most decisive victory of the year. The 29 points Kaukauna scored in losing to Shawano was its third highest total of the year, being exceeded only by the Clintonville total and 30 points against West DePere.

With a couple breaks Friday the Littlemen could have taken the measure of the Indians. The Kaws missed 11 free throws, a department in which they have been weak all year, and on several occasions when trailing by four points blew easy shots that would have put them in the game. Jim Sanders saw a lot of action, and the substitute guard showed enough to warrant the prophecy that he will get more calls before the season ends. The Shawano game was the first in which Don Biselex failed to score a point. The junior forward had previously tallied in 12 consecutive contests.

Alger Still Leads

Although held to four gift shots Bill Alger continues to lead the Kaws with 71 points. Following Alger is Carl Giordana, who made 10 points against the Indians, with 50, Paul Koch, 43, Don Biselex, 40, Joe Bloch, 37, Junior Swedberg, 29, Willis Ranquette, 15, Jim Sanders, 4, and Robert Deros, 2. The Kaws have totaled 295 to opponents 297. Free throw practice and offensive drills will be the order of the week. With Joe Bloch showing a return to form at Shawano after two weeks on the bench the Kaws will be at full strength for New London. If Bill Alger, who has been in a scoring slump the last two games, can regain his midseason form the Kaws will be all set to spring a surprise in the district tournament at Menasha.

PERKINS AND THE IMMIGRATION LAWS

Although the move to impeach the Secretary of Labor botched as it deserved upon existing evidence all was not sweetness and light by any means.

Miss Perkins seemed to tremble at the responsibility of her position because her power to deport misbehaving aliens is "in many respects the most serious and the most drastic administrative power vested in any executive officer in our government."

She might have offset that declaration by observing that the law places the responsibility upon her shoulders and that effective government is unobtainable when those who have responsibilities shed or flee from them or timorously wobble in their execution.

Miss Perkins' statement will convince many that she is avoiding meeting the issue in the Bridges case and that it is imperative that Congress or some other supervisory institution, scan with critical care every step in the affair. It isn't because Bridges is of any real importance. Another Red counts for little. But the failure of an important department of our government to function justly and loyally cannot be slurred over.

The act of Congress makes it the duty of Miss Perkins to banish from the country every alien who belongs to an organization preaching the overthrow of our government by violence. Miss Perkins had side-stepped proceedings against Bridges with the weak excuse that in the Strecker case the Supreme Court will be asked to pass upon the proposition whether mere proof that one was once a communist satisfies the demands of the law.

Thus she has paid no attention whatever to the further fact that our law requires the deportation of an alien even if he belongs to no organization preaching violence, if he himself advocates or participates in the destruction of property. And that brings us to the inquiry why action was not taken against Bridges by way of deportation when he has already been convicted by a California state court of inciting to the violent and contumacious disregard of court orders designed to protect property from violence.

The trouble with Miss Perkins is precisely the trouble that afflicts any prosecutor who has no stomach for his work or who is under personal obligations to others. A man cannot have two masters. His allegiance must be single to be effective.

But when we have a prosecutor who shows the white feather in his work or lacks steam in proceeding against one of his buddies the court is authorized to appoint a special prosecutor just for the particular case.

In this Bridges case, insignificant in itself, we are presented with the natural product of the Popular Front, as true a piece of Spain as a glass of sherry wine. Miss Perkins may accurately voice her personal hostility to communism. Naturally she doesn't believe in violence. Neither does she support the notion of substituting Moscow forms for the American system. But like the Socialists in Spain she becomes very tired when her duty requires her to act against the fellows who have been shouting for the Administration. When one wants to slide out of such an obligation finding a piece of slippery elm is not so difficult.

When a department of government cannot be trusted it must be watched. There are so many ways of beating the devil around the stump and particularly in legal maneuvers. With her showing to date can Miss Perkins be depended upon to gather the evidence? That question can be answered easiest by pointing to loopholes that have been employed in the past.

Take Chicago in the hey-day of sordid political control. Say that a prosecutor, or the assistant in charge of the particular case, wished to favor an accused person, whether for robbery or murder makes no difference. He can give the accused practically an open door to freedom while pretending to fight him tooth and claw. This is done by gathering the evidence carelessly, neglecting to straighten out the daily twists that appear in all evidence, failing to establish easily proven but essential facts such as the fact that the offense was committed within the county where the warrant was issued, or the making of some wild and intemperate statement, to the prejudice of the accused's legitimate rights. If, in spite of this mishandling, a conviction followed there was the certainty that the appellate Court would reverse. It would be shocking if the people ever came to know the number of times they have been horn-swaggered by faithless prosecutors in some such manner.

Of course Miss Perkins must depend upon assistants to gather and present the evidence. And when her aids are of the sort they are a fellow like Bridges feels pretty safe.

NO TAX FOR LAWMAKERS

A loud bellow from our body of law-makers in Madison has forced the University of Wisconsin's athletic department to rescind its order making it necessary for the legislators to present identification cards and pay the federal tax to secure their free football tickets. Until Athletic Director Stuhldreher's action, the boys had been accustomed to receiving their tickets (and for very good seats, at that) at their desks.

"Stand in line like we were on the dole?" asked the assemblymen and indignation stirred their voices.

Never in a million years.

And pay a tax?

The idea is ridiculous. Why should a legislator pay a tax if he can get out of it? His job is to pass measures taxing the people. Ask him.

So the university athletic department took back what it said and tickets will continue to be delivered as of yore and incidents will continue to crop up of messenger boys and junior clerks holding up to eight and ten tickets. And no legislator will have to pay the federal tax on football tickets.

Don't get us wrong—we aren't disillusioned about the legislature. Its members ran very true to form. But we suspect that the majority of citizens who pay the full amount, tax included, and the university students and faculty who also must pay, cannot help but feel more than a little bit resentful.

BRITAIN'S DEFENSE PROGRAM

Britain, in contemplating the future of Europe, is not soothed and sustained by the knowledge that its Prime Minister, the realistic Mr. Chamberlain, has entered into a solemn covenant with Germany, Italy and France which was designed to preserve peace for the immediate and, perhaps, the distant future. Britain realizes that the Peace of Munich is a weak reed at best.

When Britain's arms program was announced February 16, 1937, its people were appalled. It involved an expenditure of $7,500,000,000 over a five-year period, also a staggering burden of taxation whose effects would be felt even by those in humble economic circumstances. But now there is a realization that even this tremendous amount is not enough. It will be increased, in all probability, by fifty per cent.

As a beginning, Britain is raising its borrowing powers from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 to meet immediate needs. But this is only the beginning. Gradually, the drain upon Great Britain, as upon France, which has contracted in the United States for more than 1,200 planes, will grow more exhausting until the climax is reached.

What form will this climax take? In Washington there is extreme pessimism with respect to the future and it arises from the conviction, held in informed quarters, that war is inevitable and hardly can be delayed longer than Summer. We feel sorry for Europe, where war is an age-old habit, where hatreds are treasured from generation to generation, where human destruction is something in the nature of an outdoor sport.

Our duty in the situation is quite clear, though the means of fulfillment are obscure. We should remain aloof as we can in a world of diminished distances and entangling interests and strive to safeguard our own shores. These are tasks which will make heavy demands upon our best thought and energy.

THE RADIOSONDE

Occasionally in the past a weather man might risk life and limb observing a hurricane or a tornado. For the most part, however, his occupation has been as safe as the milkman's if not safer. Now we read of the Spokane airman who planed aloft on his daily quest of air mass analysis data and showed up at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on foot three days later, after wading through 25 miles of snowdrifts in below zero temperatures. On an errand designed to safeguard the flights of commercial air craft he fell victim to the perils he sought to ward off from others. As a rule air soundings by aviators are omitted when the weather is too threatening. This time it is evident there was no advance warning.

To our mind it may seem the information thus obtained is not worth the risk, but in modern weather forecasting a knowledge of the upper atmosphere has become more and more an essential of accurate work. Fortunately the development of this service has taken to lines that will reduce instead of increase the dangers to flyers. A modern invention, first called the radio-meteorograph and now given the more widely name of radiosonde, seems certain to eliminate airplane soundings altogether. It is a compact radio transmitter which, attached to a small balloon, mounts far higher than any plane and sends back signals of the conditions it encounters on the way. Eventually the balloon bursts and the instruments descend by parachute, to be found and returned to the sender or to be lost, as chance shall determine.

The radiosonde can do its work even in the midst of a hurricane, and in that fact alone gives promise of accumulating a store of knowledge heretofore impossible to obtain.

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

New York—The fabulously rich Jules Brulatour and his striking blonde wife, Hope Hampton, dropped into El Chico down in Greenwich Village the other night for some Arroz con Pollo, and learned some surprising things about a milk bath Miss Hampton took in Cairo, Egypt, more than ten years ago. That's one of the joys of New York; one never knows whom one will meet, or what he will hear.

The proprietor of El Chico is Ben Collado, probably one of the most widely acquainted Spaniards in America. Presidents of Spanish-tongued countries—and ex-presidents, bull-fighters, artists, writers, militarists, political theorists—all drop into the quaint Grove Street restaurant to drink Spanish wine, rhapsodize over the Arroz con Pollo (chicken with rice), and talk over everything from world affairs to poultry raising with the tall, gay-spirited proprietor.

The Brulatours, guests of a moving picture executive, were introduced to Collado who said: "Ah, but Mr. Brulatour, and Miss Hope Hampton, we have met before. Don't you remember me from Cairo?"

Neither the 39-year-old Brulatour nor his wife recalled ever having met him before. "Let me see if I can bring it back to you," said Collado. "You were traveling in Egypt shortly after your marriage. You were at Luxor. You visited the tomb of King Tut-an-kh-amen. I was with you there. You do not remember me? Very well, I shall recall some more."

"Miss Hope Hampton (Mrs. Brulatour always prefers to be addressed by that name—D.H.) wanted a milk bath at Cairo."

"Yes, I remember that," Miss Hampton said, and Brulatour indicated that he, too, recalled the instance.

"You went to the representative of the travel agency, if you recall, and insisted to the young man that he arrange for the milk bath. He tried politely to discourage the idea, explaining that milk was none too abundant, especially for bathing purposes; but you were determined to bathe in milk, so the travel agent bowed and said it would be taken care of."

"Yes, indeed," said Miss Hampton, "It was very satisfactory."

"I am most happy to hear you say so, Miss Hampton," said Collado, laughing, "because I don't mind telling you now, after all these years, that the 'milk bath' which cost you $150 was a few cans of condensed milk and several gallons of water."

Brulatour looked sharply across the table. "I remember you now," he said. "You were the travel agent who arranged for the milk bath!" Collado bowed acknowledgment.

"I am so glad that you remember," he said, "because it was an occasion I shall never forget. That same night, I distinctly recall, I gave myself a big party, and it cost about $125."

On the occasion of the same journey to Egypt, Brulatour decided to have a little joke with his wife over her insistence upon using her maiden name. He made no secret of his wish that she would identify herself as Mrs. Brulatour.

So it happened that just before they were abroad their ship to sail from Cairo he arranged secretly with an Egyptian aviator to fly over the ship as it moved out to sea, and drop six huge bouquets on the deck. Attached to each bouquet was a card saying simply: "For Miss Hope Hampton." Brulatour's idea was that no one aboard ship would know who "Miss Hope Hampton" was, and that in this manner he could tactfully illustrate that it might be better for her to be Mrs. Jules Brulatour.

The aviator did as he had been told, up to a certain point; that is, he flew over the vessel and one by one he dropped the big bouquets.

There was one slight flaw in the arrangement. Every bouquet fell into the water; and, so far as I know, Hope Hampton doesn't know to this day that the flowers were intended for her.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—In spite of rumors to the contrary, the latest formal reports about the Japanese mandate islands in the western Pacific say they have not been fortified in the slightest.

But these latest reports cover the situation only up to early 1937. The State Department expects more up-to-date information from Tokyo in the near future.

Reports are submitted to the State Department and to the League of Nations by Japan in compliance with treaties by which these former German islands were mandated by Japan. She was pledged under those pacts to refrain from fortifying the mandated territory. The United States insisted on that, since the islands form a blanket lying between Hawaii and the Philippines and completely surround our one tiny Guam which has been so much in the papers lately.

The treaties are still in effect, but the naval limitations treaty by which we agreed not to fortify Guam was abrogated by Japan.

Timelessness Puzzling
In contrast to the usual line of heavy-going diplomatic notes exchanged between Japan and the United States, the reports on the mandate islands seem to have been compiled with a sort of missionary zeal. You get a picture of energetic little Japanese pouring into the islands only to find themselves baffled by the tropical lassitude of the Kanakas and Maoris, whose people had lived there peacefully for a thousand years or more.

The natives farmed a little had a few low grade pigs and lower grade cattle. Mostly they lived off the bounty of the tropics.

Reports have been published that foreigners were forbidden to visit the islands. Tokyo told the State Department that with proper passports and visas "foreigners are permitted to journey and land there unless special objections are found by the authorities." There was no intimation as to just what would be found objectionable. Americans, British, Germans, Spaniards, Dutch and French visitors were reported.

"No military or naval bases nor any fortification has ever been maintained or newly built," says the report.

Navigation facilities have been just north of Guam, Japan spent 2,600,000 yen (about $700,000) in 1936 dredging a course through the coral reefs so ships of 3,000 tons could dock in the harbor. That would accommodate a small freighter, or a destroyer, perhaps a submarine, but no cruiser or battleship.

Business Picks Up

By use of subsidies Japan has established ship lines connecting the islands with Tokyo and other Japanese ports and has established aerial navigation lines, although little air traffic is reported.

Business doubled between 1933 and 1937, with Japan getting most of the $9,000,000 annual exports and delivering most of the $4,000,000 imports.

It is quite a struggle, the report says, to keep the natives going to school and to keep them from getting drunk, but movies are "excellent much good influence."

The Japanese have taken steps to end the lovely timelessness of the tropics.

"In order to cultivate among the natives the sense of time, and to encourage them to lead a well ordered life," says the report, "bells have been installed at various places to announce the time three a day, morning, noon, and evening."

After three centuries of Spanish, German and Japanese influence, the town natives are wearing clothes. Country boys and girls think anything but a breech cloth is just a crazy modern fad.

MORAL: IF YOU FIGHT A SKUNK YOU USUALLY COME OUT SMELLING LIKE ONE

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Perhaps it is an exaggerated instance, but a more less illustrative example of why government service doesn't attract the best men and women available is the departure of William F. Ashe from his capitol office with the abolition of the department of commerce.

The Kaukauna businessman is a mighty disillusioned person today. For years he had heard the complaint that what government needs is some businessmen in it. He came to Madison last summer full of plans, and with an honest, earnest desire to present his business point of view, and his experience, to the service of the state. He calls the stories that he made a sacrifice to take the state job "bunk," although it is a fact that the trade was unfavorable from the standpoint of salary.

Today he is out of a job, and with little gained except the knowledge that he is a little better acquainted with the ways of party politics. He found legislators apologizing to him in private, and criticizing him in floor debates. He found that his arguments before committees could not stay the determination of the newly elected administration leaders to wipe out his department and his job.

It is safe to say that William Ashe will not enter government service again.

CANDIDATES
Place-seekers continue to flow into the capitol to make the life of the Heil people less pleasant than they expected it to be.

Among the numerous candidates for the position of insurance commissioner, it has been learned, are many of Heil's acquaintances from Milwaukee. One of them is Haskell Noyes, former chairman of the state conservation commission.

Not overlooked by others is the public service commission, which will offer a vacancy by the expiration of the term of Fred Hunt, chairman soon. Sources which are considered not to be friendly to him (but within the Republican party) are reporting that Edward J. Samp, former chairman of the Republican voluntary committee, wants that post-Samp scoffs at the suggestion.

FOUR
One of the problems which the administration will look into when it examines the state service is the petty intrigue which has infected some of the most important capitol departments. In one of the most powerful departments of the state government there are officials who are barely on speaking terms, who spend much of their time undermining each other's standing, and are getting the personnel of their divisions into opposing camps. . . . Manitowish county's citizenship day, May 21, one of the best ideas for the promotion of democracy conceived in many a day, is receiving bales of publicity all over the country. . . . William H. Rohan of Kaukauna, former assemblyman, is carrying on his feud with the department of agriculture and markets on the eradication of certain varieties of plants on his farm in Outagamie county. Rohan called at the capitol recently to tell Republican legislators that the $5 license fee for autos isn't as popular as they fear it is. "I introduced that bill in 1937, and I was beat in 1937," he recalled. . . . Gustave J. Keller of Appleton, Outagamie county Democratic leader, is assuming an important place in the state Democratic organization.

A mask that is effective against any respiratory infection caused by germs consists of not less than ten layers of gauze (cheesecloth) having a mesh of 32 threads to the inch. It should measure at least 4 inches by 8 inches and it may be held in place covering nose and mouth by means of tapes attached to each corner and tied at the back—one pair going over the ears, the other pair under the ears.

Uninitiated critics sometimes observe that such a mask would hardly stop disease germs. But it stops the spray droplets, and that is all that is required to prevent the spread of cri due to germs.

Whether such a mask stops the virus of influenza I am not so certain, but I believe it is nearly, if not quite, as dependable a barrier against the transfer of virus (germs) too small to be visible thru the ordinary bacteriological microscope, but perhaps visible thru the ultra-microscope) as it is against cri in general, say diphtheria or pneumonia.

Of course such a mask must be worn always with the same side out, if it is donned and removed. It should be changed frequently, as it is assuming an important place in the state Democratic organization.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

TREATMENT OF THE FLU

A. The height of the 1918-19 influenza epidemic a considerable number of (a) frightened and (b) well informed people took to wearing masks.

When people took to wearing masks for protection against the flu a considerable number of other people became (a) frightened and some of them became (b) well informed.

I don't know whether personal health or public health benefits more when one wears a mask against the cri. It all depends on the quality or type of mask worn and the I.Q. of the individual and the section of the public concerned.

In the first place wearing a mask against the flu or any other prevailing respiratory infection implies acceptance of the belief or teaching that the disease is spread via droplets of moisture or secretion emitted from nose or mouth during coughing, sneezing or talking. The virus or germ of the disease is conveyed in the droplets, not only the larger droplets which are palpable or visible, but also in finer droplets which may be impalpable and invisible to the naked eye, to lodge upon the face of any one who happens to be within range, and some of the droplets may be inhaled directly.

This may not be a pleasant subject to think about. Indeed a radio broadcasting chain censor forbade me to refer to it in some talks I gave over the air as it might not be nice for women and children to learn about such things. On the air as elsewhere you say only what the listeners want the public to hear or curse.

Physicians and nurses trained in the aseptic technique of the operating room and the contagious disease hospital understand why and how to use a mask for prevention of the spread of infection. The layman should understand but generally doesn't. The main reason the layman doesn't understand why and how to use this safety precaution is the carelessness or incompetence of the old time practitioner, the elderly and perhaps beloved doctor who had little if any training in aseptic technique during his preparation for practice and hence never has acquired positive principles which do not give way before the conventions and fancies of the public.

Accidents of Time, History Contribute to Balanced U. S. Supreme Court, Beatty States

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY.
Washington.—The Supreme Court is closer today to all-around balance in membership than ever—thanks to five Presidents and the accidents of time and history.

The retirement of Justice Louis Brandeis and President Roosevelt's prospective appointment of his successor brings within the realm of the possible an even closer trim, provided the magic wand points westward.

Balance, of course, implies vastly more than the mere party politics of a man when he gets the coveted White House nod and Senate approval.

Balance is not mandatory. It is not even required that a member of the court should be a member of the bar but they always have been lawyers.

Every section of the nation wants a sympathetic ear on the high court—a man who understands its particular problems. Too, any minority or religious creed in the great American melting pot takes legitimate pride in the selection of one of its members for the robes that makes a man a justice of the United States.

Fine Point Of Division

Most important of all are a man's legal and economic leanings. On this count, balance in the highest court is usually discussed on the basis of Liberalism vs. Conservatism. But the more finicky are inclined to use other terms. Some suggest the division should be made between justices who lean strongly on precedent and custom, and those who believe the Constitution is a flexible instrument admitting of social and economic experiments in government.

But, old school or new, the views of nine justices (eight at the moment) on social and economic currents have as much to do with John Q. Citizen's welfare as those of the 500-odd members of Congress and the President, for they hold the veto power over laws passed by Congress and signed by the President. Their views inevitably find their way into the fundamental law, the law that ever has had a tendency to change the fortunes of men. For, the "power to tax is the power to destroy."

Minus the successor to Brandeis, the court is even-strengthen on a close decision in the fundamental law.

Regularly in the experimenters' corner are three Roosevelt appointees, Black, Reed and Frankfurter. Usually with them is Stone, a one-time Wall Street affiliate gone liberal.

On the other side are two dyed-in-the-wool precedent-followers, Butler and McReynolds, and two middle-of-the-road men, Chief Justice Hughes and Roberts. Their older records put these two pretty close to the conservative camp, but their more recent opinions indicate that they, too, are taking an experimental turn of mind occasionally.

About Even Politically

Similarly, the court is split about even in party politics. Hughes, Stone and Roberts bear the Republican stamp, having drawn their appointments from two Republican Presidents, Coolidge and Hoover.

Reed, Black, McReynolds and Butler are Democrats. As a New Deal adviser of first rank, Frankfurter falls vaguely into that slot, too, although the record implies that he is agnostic in politics. Or at least he was before Roosevelt came to Washington.

Curiously, one Republican, Stone, and two Democrats, McReynolds (a Wilson appointee) and Butler (a Harding appointee) jumped the traces somewhere along the road. They found themselves consistently siding with strange bedfellows, so far as politics are concerned.

Sectionally, the division of the court is not quite so happy.

The East is well taken care of with New York's Hughes and Stone, Pennsylvania's Roberts, and New England's Frankfurter. Middle Americans can't kick exactly, having on the court Kentucky's Reed and McReynolds; while the South has Alabama's Black and the Northwest, Minnesota's Butler. Missing is a far westerner, explaining the present hue and cry for somebody from the west of the Mississippi than Minnesota. If such an appointment goes through, then geographical balance also will have been achieved.

On the score of race or creed, the court is closer than usual to proportionate representation. The overwhelming majority of Protestants is represented by six justices. The Catholics have one and the Jews one in Butler and Frankfurter, respectively.

Significantly enough, Brandeis, the first Jew ever appointed to the court, withheld his retirement until Frankfurter was firmly seated on the court. The only other Jew ever appointed, Justice Cardozo, died recently. Technically, it was he who Frankfurter succeeded. Actually, however, the famous Frankfurter succeeded the great Brandeis. The two of them saw eye to eye on many fundamentals of Supreme Court philosophy, and both constantly harped on the theme of experimentation in government.

Canners Facing Market Worries

Leaders in Industry Troubled by Crop Failures, Competition

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau.
Madison.—Leaders in the Wisconsin canning industry are not optimistic today, partly because of setbacks in their crops in recent years, and partly because of the rising competition on the West Coast, according to R. H. Winter of Green Bay, leader in the state canning industry.

Winter appeared before the legislature's joint finance committee to plead for an appropriation of $14,000 to the College of Agriculture for research into the industry's problems, and particularly in the field of canning peas.

Plant diseases, poor growing seasons, and insect ravages in recent years have caused reverses for Wisconsin growers of canning crops and for the canners. Winter told the committee. Five years ago, he related, the state produced 56 per cent of American canned peas; today the percentage has dropped to 35 per cent, with Washington and Oregon making large strides forward in production and quality crops.

Winter said that research by the university could be a major aid to the industry. Last year, he said, canners feared that they would be forced to close operations entirely because of the rapid depletion of some of the best soils in the state. The university discovered the mineral which the soils lacked, he said, and "it was a godsend to the industry."

He said the canning industry represented the second largest cash crop of the state, amounting to about $5,000,000 yearly.

Wisconsin has been lagging in providing for research in the canning crop field, he said, while the industry itself is not equipped to provide it.

He added that the problem of the canners today is not to increase the acreage of canning crops, but to increase the quality of the crop produced, and the production per acre cultivated.

March 11-12 Date of Cub Leaders' Parley

The valley council office of boy scouts announced today that club leaders of the council will hold their annual mid-winter conference at Gardner Dam March 11-12 at which the program in cubbing will be studied.

Leaders from Appleton, Clintonville, Shawano, and Menasha will attend.

Gardner Dam will be inhabited this coming weekend by a group of men interested in leadership work of the commissioner type in scouting and cubbing.

CountyPioneers Meet Tomorrow; Holmes Speaker

67th Annual Gathering Will be Held at Masonic Temple

Fred L. Holmes, author of "Alluring Wisconsin" and other books, will be the principal speaker at the sixtieth annual meeting of the Outagamie County Pioneer and Historical society tomorrow in the Masonic temple. Holmes, who lives in Madison, will speak on "Unknown Wisconsin."

The meeting will open at 10:30 in the morning with reports of officers and election of four directors. An hour later the board of directors will convene to elect officers.

Members of the society and their families will gather for dinner at noon and at 1:30 in the afternoon the public program will start. Miss Evangeline Farwell will be pianist and the Rev. G. H. Blum will deliver the prayer. Students of Kaukauna High school will present several musical selections.

Mayor Lewis F. Nelson of Kaukauna, present president of the society, will give the address of welcome. A vocal solo will follow and then Holmes will deliver the principal address of the day.

Members will speak informally following Holmes' talk and an Appleton High school string ensemble will play. The report of the resolutions committee and a song will close the meeting.

Present officers of the society are as follows: Lewis F. Nelson, Kaukauna, president; A. L. Collar, Hortonville, vice president; Nick Bruhl, Sherwood, second vice president; Dr. John J. Laird, Black Creek, third vice president; Sarto Balliet, Appleton, secretary and treasurer; Dr. William F. Raney, Appleton, director of historical research.

Commission Warns Youths to Probe Mail Order Studies

Madison.—The state industrial commission has warned young men in industry to investigate correspondence school contracts and the opportunities afforded before investing their money in this type of education.

The commission, in a formal bulletin signed by Chairman Votta Wrabetz and Walter Simon, supervisor of apprenticeship, said reputable correspondence schools have agreed to a code of fair practice but that other schools have offered contracts which proved to be "simply high pressure educational rackets."

The commission said that under a code on file with the federal trade practice commission reputable schools have agreed not to use any sales arguments about actual or probable earnings in any vocation, opportunities in any field resulting from a given course of instruction, services in connection with securing employment, and prospects for a job or pay increase.

The commission said a signed contract invariably becomes a financial obligation without regard to the value of the course or the service rendered.

Chief of Fascist Press Has Softest Job in Journalism

BY WESTBROOK FEGLER.
New York.—The softest job in all journalism is that of Virginia Gayda, the official commentator of the Journal of Italy in Rome, who enjoys the rank and emoluments of first interpreter and commentator in the fascist press, but doesn't have to do a lick of work at his job beyond whipping into popular journalese the ideas which are handed to him by the boss. Gayda's job is better, from the strictly material standpoint, than that of the anonymous American professional editorial writer who angles an argument to conform to office policy, because Mussolini has made a public figure and lowercase dignitary of a hack who otherwise might never have risen above the mass of crummy moochers, typical of Italian journalism, who sit around marble tables in sloppy overcoats with grease on their collars, gnawing horse-meat sausage and chipping for their supper. They are, as a tribe, the most contemptible menials of the whole breed of fascist parasites who live by the nod, for Italian journalism, when free, was opinionated and daring, and most of those who took service with the duce sold their manhood for job security, pensions and other bribes.

Fegler

They were, in the main, the spiritless mediocrities, and such they remain under fascism.

Mussolini himself has taken the measure of their character in flat money of his own issue, naturally loathes them. He has a right to his contempt, for when he was a journalist himself, he fought authority, sneered in the face of poverty and risk and couldn't be bought. He knows their price, and he knows that, having sold out to him, they would sell out again to Balbo or any other promising rival who might come riding into Rome in a spirited pullman, as he himself did. He has the same opinion of those nominal Americans who publish Italian papers here in which Americanism is sold out to fascism for cheap honors at pats on the back from a hand that anytime may hold a knife. A pseudo American who would betray his country to Mussolini for gauds to adorn his vanity would be likely to turn on him, too, should circumstances change. He has far greater respect for men who were beaten to death by his gangs, and men who have languished on lipari for their principles than for party journalists who joined him for money that he created by telling the printer to turn the crank.

American Editorial Writer Is Impersonal

The professional American editorial writer is selfless and impersonal, and though he may take artistic pride in his wordage, may still detest the sentiments which he has written for, hire, and disown compliments to them. He still may refuse to dine with the boss, Gayda, however, not only writes to orders but accepts the paltry celebrity in which it is necessary to invest him for reasons of diplomatic evasion. He writes with no special skill or other distinction, but with effrontery and efficient obedience to instructions from the boss or Ciano.

World Day of Prayer And Lenten Services By Three Churches

Clintonville.—Special services in observance of the world day of prayer will take place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, at Salem Evangelical church. Mrs. E. W. Marks will be in charge. Participating in this service will be the three co-operating churches, Salem Evangelical, Christ Congregational and First Methodist.

Union lenten services will be conducted by these churches at 7:45 each Wednesday evening during the lenten period. The first of these evening services will take place Wednesday, March 1, at Christ Congregational church with the Rev. W. H. Wiese in charge. Each week the services will be alternated at the three churches with one of the pastors in charge.

Concluding the lenten period will be a special Good Friday service at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Methodist church, with the Rev. W. E. Schilling in charge.

Friendship circle of the Methodist regime, although their copy, at times, bears a resemblance to Gayda's in furious devotion to propositions which they themselves prove wrong by every argument offered to prove them right.

In reading Gayda's copy it is advisable to ignore the man's name and regard it as the policy of the fascist government toward this country. He is insulting, bellicose, and, just now, through him, Mussolini is attempting to separate the American people from their government, as Woodrow Wilson tried to distinguish between the German people and the kaiser. It may be preliminary to an attempt to free us. Anyway, it imparts special interest to the activities of Italian organizations in this country, such as the recent first annual dinner of Benito Mussolini lodge No. 1768, of the Sons of Italy, at Bethlehem, Pa., at which one of the speakers was the Zion, Frank Trigliani, county supervisor of the WPA in charge of citizenship and naturalization.

ist Ladies Aid society will be entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. William Wega and Mrs. Anna Flopper at the latter's home on N. Main street.

Queen Esther Circle of this society will also meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mossholder on S. Main street.

The Book Review club will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. H. Stein. Mrs. Norman Hanson will have charge of the lesson on Chinaware and Glassware. Book reports will be continued by Miss Esther Reglie and Mrs. Arthur Giersbach.

LEGAL NOTICES

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION
February 14, 1939.
The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was called to order by Mr. Cmeiner, president. All members were present.

Mr. Frans Larson, representative of the Board of Education, presented a preliminary report of the audit of the construction and equipment accounts which they have been making. A written report will be ready for the next meeting.

The report of the Building committee meeting was presented.

A resolution reappraising and incorporating the change in orders that were made under the FWA program of construction of the high school was prepared by Mr. Benton Schuler and Mr. Larson, CPA, and offered to the board by Mr. McGillan. (See item No. 3 of the Building committee report, Feb. 14, 1939.)

Mr. Boyer, accordingly, offered the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that items No. 2 and No. 3 of the minutes of the meeting of the Building Committee of February 14, 1939 be ratified and approved.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a complete transcript thereof be included with and written into the minutes and records of this Board meeting.

Signed: C. K. BOYER.
February 14, 1939.

Mr. Boyer moved the adoption of the resolution. Mr. Behnke supported the motion. A roll call vote was taken. All members voting aye. Motion carried.

Mr. McGillan moved that the Board of Education apply for a WPA project to complete the landscaping and outdoor gymnasium at the high school as the project is set up in item No. 5 of the Building committee report of February 14, 1939. Mr. Behnke seconded the motion. A roll call vote was taken as follows:

LEGAL NOTICES

Omeiner, aye; Boyer, aye; Behnke, aye; McGillan, aye; Schuler, aye; Benton, aye; Wood, aye.

Motion carried.

Dr. Hegner offered a resolution transferring the cash balance of the Special Equipment fund to the WPA account and moved its adoption. Mr. Benton supported the motion which was carried after a roll call vote. All members voted aye.

Mr. Behnke moved that item No. 4 of the Building committee report of February 14, 1939 be approved. Mr. McGillan seconded the motion. Motion carried.

Mr. Benton offered a resolution accepting the heating and ventilating work at the new high school, as completed by the J. E. Robertson Company. Dr. Hegner supported the motion. A roll call vote was taken, all members voting aye. Carried.

Mr. Behnke presented a resolution providing for the payment of $2,000.00 due the J. E. Robertson company on their contract for the heating and ventilating work at the high school. Mr. Benton seconded the motion. A roll call vote was taken, all members voting aye. Motion carried.

Dr. Hegner moved that the regular monthly bills be allowed and certified to the city clerk for payment. Mr. Benton supported the motion. Motion carried after a roll call vote, all members voting aye.

Mr. Boyer moved that the WPA payroll report No. 13, for the period from Nov. 20 to and including Dec. 12, 1938, and payroll report No. 14, for the period Dec. 14 to and including Feb. 3, 1939, be approved and paid from the proper fund. Mr. Behnke supported the motion. A roll call vote was taken, all members voting aye. Motion carried.

Mr. Boyer moved that the list of invoices for the WPA Project No. 3145, amounting to $7,563.20, be approved and paid from the proper funds. Mr. Behnke seconded the motion, which was carried after a roll call vote, all members voting aye.

Mr. Behnke moved that the monthly reports be accepted and placed on file. Seconded by Mr. Wood. Carried.

Mr. Boyer moved that the matter of insurance covering the hot water boilers in the schools, as discussed in the meeting of Feb. 7, 1939, be referred to the Maintenance committee with power to place such insurance coverage. Mr. Wood supported the motion. A roll call vote was taken, all members present voting aye. Carried.

Mr. Behnke moved that the request of Mr. Dohr for the use of the Roosevelt Gymnasium by a group of men be allowed, if the gymnasium was available. Mr. Benton seconded the motion. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Menasha to Name Five Aldermen in Spring Election

Voters Also Will Select Treasurer, Justice, Two Supervisors

Menasha—Voters of Menasha will go to the polls on Tuesday, April 4, to name five members of the city council as well as a city treasurer, two members of the city board of supervisors, and a justice of the peace. All are to be elected for 2-year terms.

The aldermen whose terms expire in April are C. J. Oberweiser, first ward; Edward Zeininger, second ward; M. J. Grode, third ward; Philip Michalkiewicz, fourth ward, and John Eckrich, fifth ward.

The supervisors whose terms expire are John J. Stommel, second ward, and R. M. Heckner, fourth ward, while the terms of City Treasurer C. A. Heckrodt and of Ray J. Fink, justice of the peace, also expire this year.

Although no candidates have taken out nomination papers yet, they are available at the office of City Clerk Walter J. Dougherty. Aldermanic campaigns probably will provide most of the election excitement. Nomination papers may be filed as early as March 15 while the last day for filing is March 20.

Registration Notices
The final day for registration of voters is March 25, according to the city clerk. Notices have been sent to all voters whose registration has lapsed because they failed to vote in any election in the last two years. The registration must be renewed by those persons before March 25 while all persons who will be 21 years of age by April 4, wives who have not registered under their married names or new residents of the city also must register by that date. Notices of change of address may be given by phone to the office of the city clerk.

City officials whose terms will hold over from last April include Mayor W. H. Jensen, and five aldermen: Reuter, Tuchscherer, first ward; Earl Sauter, second ward; William Karrow, third ward; John R. Scanlon, fourth ward, and Walter O'Brien, fifth ward. All except Sauter were new men.

Other persons chosen last year included Arthur J. Ales as justice of the peace, Joseph H. Stommel and R. M. Heckner, assessors, and three supervisors, E. F. Dornbrook, first ward; E. G. Sonnenberg, third ward, and A. J. Seithamer, fifth ward.

All members of the election board have been reappointed by Mayor W. H. Jensen for the year terms with the approval of the council.

Lions Purchase New Sight Chart

Club Presents Vision Testing Equipment to School Nurse

Menasha—A portable illuminated chart for testing vision has been purchased by the Menasha Lions club as part of its sight-saving work. The chart was displayed at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the club at Hotel Menasha by Dr. P. T. O'Brien and was presented to Mrs. Sigrid Dudley, school health instructor, for use in her work.

The chart is intended to provide uniform illumination so that the eyes of all children will be tested under standard conditions. Mrs. Dudley will take the chart with her on her visits to the various schools. The Lions club also has purchased a number of pairs of glasses for needy youngsters who otherwise would have to do their work hampered by poor vision.

At least five bowling teams will represent the Menasha Lions club in the annual Lions state bowling tournament. The Menasha keglers will bowl in the state meet at Manitowish on April 2. N. E. Verbrick is the bowling committee chairman. Chairman of all committees for the state Lions convention, which will be held in Menasha in June, will meet with M. F. Crowley, general chairman, on Wednesday March 1. At that time the chairman will report on progress to date and suggestions for the program will be worked out.

Knights Templar to Hold Practice Drill

Menasha—Knights' Templar will hold a practice meeting tonight at the Menasha temple in preparation for the Oshkosh meeting Wednesday night. Members of the City Commandery and Lady Sir Knights have been invited to attend the pot luck supper and meeting.

RUBBISH WEDNESDAY
Menasha—Rubbish will be collected in the fourth ward on Wednesday, according to H. O. Haugh, city health officer. The district includes Sixth street and the area north to the city limits.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and display advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street, and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for display advertising and orders for subscription should be placed by telephoning 543 in Appleton, and the cost of the telephone call will be rebated. The Twin Cities office closes at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Accidents Increase But County Fatality Record Is Kept Clear

Menasha—Winnebago county has kept its fatality record clear even though highway accidents have been on the increase since Jan. 1, according to the reports compiled by Floyd L. Wright of the Winnebago County Safe Drivers' league. Up to Saturday, 30 accidents had been reported for February while only 20 were reported for the same period of 1938. Ten persons were injured and 31 cars were damaged.

Since the first of the year Mr. Wright's records show 97 accidents, 31 persons injured and 141 cars damaged in comparison with 83 accidents, 31 injuries and 92 cars damaged for the same period of 1938.

A majority of the accidents this year have occurred within the limits of the three cities of the county. City accidents have accounted for 68 accidents while only 23 have been reported for the towns and villages.

Willard Schmidt Rolls 694 Series In Neenah League

Neenah—Willard Schmidt rolled the maples for a 694 top score on games of 246, 182 and 266 to pace the Sleepy Hollow Bowling league last night at the Neenah alleys. His games of 246 and 266 were high.

George Burnside rolled second high series of 599 and a game of 230. B. Hilliger hit a 229 game. Norris Madison rolled a 244 game.

Matthew Barbers regained a share of first place when they won two games from the Home Fuchs, while the Edgewater Papers lost two games to the Economy Drugs.

The drug team rolled high game series of 2,782 and high game of 950. Jung Beers hit second high game of 924 and the Barbers rolled second high series of 2,680.

Rockets to Meet Clintonville Five In League Contest

Neenah Squad Will Perform on Cellar Team's Court Friday Night

Neenah—Neenah High school's cage squad, holders of half a share of first place in the Northeastern Wisconsin conference, return to league competition Friday to face the cellar team, Clintonville on the Truett's court.

Jorgensen's quintet climbed into the lead deadlock a week ago when it wallowed Shawano, 27 to 13. The Rockets then slipped into the doldrums Friday to take a 44 to 19 wallowing from Menasha St. Mary at Menasha.

Because Clintonville is considered to be a little more than a practice game for the Rockets, the Neenah mentor is anticipating a difficult job holding his players in check Friday night because of the drubbing from St. Mary. Neenah had little trouble winning from the Truett's in the first game, scoring a 43 to 15 victory here Jan. 6. The Rockets offered little opposition to Clintonville's four. Free throws counted only three. Free throws, however, while the Truett's made eight.

Two Rehearsals

Coach Jorgensen is planning only two practice sessions this week, one of which will be held this afternoon and the other Thursday afternoon. The Rockets haven't drilled since before the Shawano game.

After the Clintonville conflict, the Rockets will have only one more conference game remaining on their schedule. They meet Menasha here March 4.

Jorgensen will take his full squad with him to Clintonville, and the starting team probably will be composed of Hackstock and Peterson at forwards; Schmidt at center, and Hesselman and Kettering at guards. The Clintonville starting cast probably will be composed of Huffman and Bilmeyer at forwards; Roloff at center, and Martin and Goerlinger at guards.

James Flynn Begins Work as Scoutmaster Of Wooden Ware Unit

Menasha—James Flynn, new scoutmaster of Troop 9, sponsored by the Menasha Wooden Ware, took charge of the first meeting since former scoutmaster J. Wesley Olsen was promoted to the office of scout commissioner Monday night at Nicolet school.

Zephyrs Hope to Clinch Share of Conference Title

Meet Green Knights at St. Norbert in Final Tilt Thursday

Menasha—St. Mary High school cagers Thursday night will be out to clinch a share of the 1939 Fox Valley Catholic conference basketball title when they invade St. Norbert College High for the last game of their conference season. A victory for the Zephyrs Thursday night will insure them of at least a tie while they will have an undisputed crown if the St. Peter of Oshkosh team should be able to trip St. John's of Little Chute on Friday night.

Both the Zephyrs and the Flying Dutchmen have records of six victories and one defeat in the conference. The Zephyrs scored a 32 to 18 victory in a bruising game with the Green Knights on Feb. 13 in the St. Mary gymnasium. The St. Norbert team will have the advantage of its own large court for the game Thursday and will be out to upset the Zephyrs.

Although there may be a reaction following the Zephyrs' 44 to 19 triumph over Neenah, the St. Mary team will have the incentive of a conference championship to spur them in the game Thursday night. Last year the Zephyrs won eight straight in the conference to take the championship. This year they were rudely upset by St. John's, 20 to 18, in their first conference game of the season. The St. Mary team more than made up for that defeat with a 24 to 14 victory in the St. Mary gymnasium but the two teams still are tied for the lead.

Winning Combination
Coach Marvin Miller no doubt will stick to the combination that clicked so marvelously against Neenah. Coenen and Laux will start at forwards, Prunuske will hold the center spot and Resch and Picard are guards. All are seniors who will be playing their last conference game. Tony Will, a reserve forward, is the only other senior on the varsity squad.

The Zephyrs bottled up the star St. Norbert forward, VandenBusch, holding him to one basket in their first meeting. This time, however, the St. Norbert star will have a larger court in which to perform. The Green Knights were limited to six field goals in the first meeting of the two schools.

Shamrocks Beat Appleton Squad

Score 37 to 34 Win Over Lawrence Business Men at Appleton

Menasha—The St. Patrick C. Y. O. basketball team scored a 37 to 34 victory over the Lawrence Business Men Monday night at Alexander gymnasium at Appleton. The Shamrocks collected 16 field goals with R. Godhardt scoring eight baskets and three free throws for 19 points to lead the team.

The Lawrence team was paced by Beerman with 10 baskets and a free throw for 21 points. The St. Pat's team had 16 field goals to 14 for the Business Men. The victory was the second scored by the Shamrocks over the Lawrence team.

The box score:

Appleton, Neenah Musicians Take Part in Salon Program

Neenah—Neenah and Appleton musicians contributed to the musical program Sunday as the Neenah branch of the Musical Exchange sang was entertained by the Fond du Lac group of the same organization at the home of Mrs. Esther Temple.

Kenneth Kendall, baritone, and Mrs. Annette Sindahl Matheson, pianist were the contributors from the Neenah group. Mr. Kendall singing an aria, "Schlummert ein" from J. S. Bach's cantata 82 and the opus 58 songs of Edward MacDowell. Mrs. Matheson played a composition of Anton Rubinstein, a J. S. Bach, and a piece by Chopin. The Appleton group played two violin solos, "Aria from the Orchestral Suite in D" by Bach and "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler.

Featuring the program Sunday afternoon was the performance of Sonya Pincus, Russian pianist, who is a graduate of Leningrad Conservatory of Music, USSR. Mme. Pincus also studied with Egon Petri, the Dutch pianist of international reputation. Her first selection was Bach's "Violin Chaconne" as arranged for piano by Busoni. Other offerings were the Mozart "Concerto in A Major for Piano and Orchestra." Mrs. Temple playing the orchestral transcription at a second piano.

Miss Pincus also presented "Aureole" by Chaminade, "Gavotte" by Glazounoff and excerpts from the "Piano Concerto in F Minor" by the same composer.

Take Part in Program
Other Fond du Lac musicians and their contributions to the program were William Schultz, pianist, "Waltz in E Flat, 18. Chopin; 'Hopak' by Moussorgsky; Rudolph Grebbe, 'Malaguena' by Lecuona and 'La Polichinelle' by Villalobos; William Temple and Florence Kalman, Appleton, played two violin solos, 'Aria from the Orchestral Suite in D' by Bach and 'The Old Refrain' by Kreisler.

Members of the senior class of Menasha High school are preparing to present a 3-act mystery comedy, "Tiger House." The play really is a mystery for even members of the cast do not know who the Tiger Man is nor do they know the outcome of the play.

Franklyn LeFevre, vocal music instructor, who is in charge of the production, saw to that. When the books came Mr. LeFevre got busy with a razor blade to remove all evidence as to the conclusion of the play. He just cut the last two pages out of the book to keep the mystery a mystery. Members of the cast will not know who the culprit is until 48 hours before the production.

The play is scheduled for production on Tuesday, March 21, in the Menasha High school auditorium. The play is by Robert St. Clair and has been recommended by dramatic instructors from over 100 schools of the northwest.

Members of Cast
Members of the cast were selected by Miss Frances Fredrickson, speech instructor. John Novakofski and Mr. LeFevre following tryouts. Members of the cast include Julianne Peterson, Carol Osborne, Audrey Hull, Jane McGrath, Jane Rosch, Robert Sensesbrenner, Frank Younger, Jack Crockett, George Clark, Lamar Foth and the Tiger Man, identity unknown.

In the technical and production department of the play are Marion Pomeroy, assistant director; Richard Steffens, business manager; Shirley Page, ticket manager; Katherine Dexter, publicity, and Bruce Long, stage manager.

Red Cross Course In Winter Safety Continues Tonight

Third Session Will be Held at Menasha High School Pool

Menasha—The third meeting in the water safety course being sponsored by the Menasha chapter of the American Red Cross will be held tonight in the Menasha High school swimming pool. Walter A. Hausknecht, life saving expert of the field staff of the first aid and life saving division of the Red Cross, is conducting the course.

Approximately 18 persons have enrolled in the course with more expected to report tonight. Swimmers from Oshkosh, Appleton and Menasha are taking the instruction which will run through March 4. The class meets each Tuesday and Thursday night.

The work in the course is under direct charge of the life saving and first aid committee of the Menasha chapter of which Kenneth Carlick, park superintendent, is the chairman. S. E. Crockett, director of the school of vocational and adult education, and Arthur Gutzman also are members of the committee.

Life Ties Is Heavy

Despite the forward strides the national Red Cross has made in life saving, the annual loss of life from drowning continues to rise and each year more than 7,500 persons die in the water. The reason is that in recent years additional millions have answered the call of the surf, lake or pool. Red Cross officials say.

The majority of deaths in the water, the Red Cross believes, can be traced to lack of knowledge of methods of life saving. Drowning is the second greatest cause of accidental death among men and boys. Hausknecht is a charter member of the St. Louis chapter's Meramec river patrol and possesses an enviable record as an outstanding swimming coach.

Track Tourney Is Feature of Boys' Brigade Meeting

Sixth, Seventh, Eighth Graders Participate in Contests

Neenah — Boys in the sixth, seventh and eighth grade groups in the Neenah Boys' Brigade last night competed in a track tournament in the Neenah gymnasium.

More than 20 members of the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade groups were conducted on a tour of the courthouse and county jail at Oshkosh by Sheriff Paul Neubauer and Captain Irving Sulp, while members of Charles Neubauer's group were entertained at a dinner and social hour at the leader's home, Higgins avenue.

Karl Oberreich is in charge of the tournament. The older boys' track tournament will be held next Monday evening, and optional programs will be held for the younger boys.

Results of the tournament are as follows:

Win Jump Contest

In the high jump contest, William Daniel and John Kuehner tied for first honors, each jumping 4 feet 5 inches. Winners in the sixth grade group were: Edwin Kalfahs, Jr., John Abenschein. Seventh grade group, Carl Schultz, John Kuehner, Russell Hall, Carl Schultz, and Curt Wiberg. Eighth grade, Di-no Burtis, William Daniel, Herbert Steller, Vincent Lampert.

America Has Frontiers Still Untouched, Neenah D.A.R. Told

Neenah — Declaring that Americans should throw off the mantle of fear and cloak themselves with a little of the pioneer spirit of their forefathers, Mrs. E. L. Mendenhall, Fond du Lac, told members of the Neenah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Valley Inn that there were many new frontiers in America as yet untouched which offer opportunity for every American citizen. Sixteen members of the chapter attended the luncheon session at which Mrs. Arthur Ritter, chapter regent, presented the D.A.R. Citizenship medals to Miss Ruth Johnson, Neenah high school senior, and Miss Juliette Peterson, Menasha high school senior. Mrs. Helen Kimberly Stuart, state regent of the D.A.R., also presented a short talk on leadership among youth. Herbert Merrill at the violin and George Wilcox, at the piano entertained during the luncheon hour. Both young men are members of the Neenah high school orchestra. Luncheon table decorations were in red, white and blue.

Tigers Top Bears To Cop Cage Loop Crown at Neenah

Perch Win Title in Fish League at High School

Neenah — The Tigers defeated the Bears, 24 to 18, to win their ninth game in 10 starts Monday afternoon in the gymnasium to cop the championship in the Animal League in Neenah High school intramural basketball competition.

The Perch won their tenth straight game from the Whales yesterday afternoon to cop the title in the Fish League, and the Bluejays and Falcons will battle for the title of the Bird League this afternoon. The Bluejays are leading with nine straight wins and the Falcons are in second place with eight victories against one defeat.

The Lions took second place in the Animal League, having won seven and lost three, while the Bears won third position with six wins against four losses. The Gophers and the Wolverines tied for fourth, each having won four and lost six, and the Badgers ended in the cellar with 10 defeats.

Smith paced the Tigers in a victory over the Bears, having netted seven points, and Bunker led the Bears with 13 points. The Wolverines defeated the Badgers, 10 to 8. Zimmerman paced the winners with five points, and Nelson got four for the losers. The Gophers tripped the Lions, 15 to 7. Loehning collected four points for the Gophers and Bentzen got as many for the Lions.

Tie for Third

The Sparrows and the Hawks tied for third place in the Bird League, each team having won five games and lost as many. The Eagles scored two wins against eight losses and the Cardinals lost 10. The Hawks yesterday trimmed the Cardinals, 21 to 8. Parman scored 14 points for the winners and Mace got four for the Cards. The Sparrows scored a 27 to 6 win over the Eagles. Graham paced the winners with 15 points and Gerhman got two for the Eagles.

The Sharks took second place in the Fish League, having won eight and lost two. The Whales scored five victories and as many defeats and lost as many. The Suckers and the Minnows tied for fourth, each having won three and lost seven. The Carp ended in the cellar with one victory and nine losses.

In Fish league games yesterday, the Sharks walloped the Minnows, 49 to 2. C. Kettering piled up 30 points for the winners and Young got two for the losers. The Whales lost to the Perch, 17 to 4. Berts paced the winners with seven points and Matthias got two for the Whales. The Carp defeated the Suckers, 11 to 7. Lawson and Phillips each got five points for the Carp and Rine made three for the Suckers.

Movie Land Its People and Products

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood — Edgar Bergen, to me, is the most interesting man in Hollywood. Perhaps "bewildering" would be a better word, for he's what a psychologist would call a "split personality."

Carlyle and his creator are distinct individuals. What's more, they are direct opposites in mental makeup. Neither one seems to be so much as influenced by the characteristics of the other.

Bergen, as Bergen, is anything but a wit. He's been a guest in my home on many occasions and I've had ample opportunity to study him. He's shy, retiring—the kind of a man who stands silently on the sidelines. People who have heard his radio programs invariably expect him to sparkle and go out of their way to feed him opportunities for wisecracks. He never makes any, and it's impossible to question the reason. Bergen, as Bergen, is serious-minded—witticisms simply don't occur to him. They are foreign to his nature.

But put Charlie McCarthy on his knee and a new person is born. Every line Charlie says drips impudent wit. He interrupts conversations, boasts and swaggers, makes cutting personal remarks. And not one word that spoils from his wooden lips could conceivably come from Bergen, when Bergen is himself. The first time I met Edgar, I mentioned one of Charlie's rowdyisms—and I was amazed to see him blush. "Sometimes McCarthy embarrasses me," he murmured. I'm just beginning to understand his full meaning.

Odd-formation: According to the specifications of most studio authorities, the perfect feminine leg measures 18 inches at the thigh, 13 inches at the knee, 12 inches at the calf, 8 inches at the ankle and terminates in a size 5 1/2 foot. These realistic ideals that festoon mid-winter settings are made of padding, dusted with the kind of X-ray snow you buy in the five-and-ten. Mention poker sharks in the upper strata of Hollywood society and someone's sure to answer "Connie Bennett"—the lady's that expert. Which reminds me that Bob Burns was a champion pistol shot before he learned to play 'em with that bazooka.

Every year sees women making greater inroads on masculine supremacy in Hollywood—now there's a lady property "man" in one of the studios. Bet you boys wouldn't be so jealous of the screen's great lovers if you knew that all movie kisses are off-center kisses—the lovers made of padding, dusted with the kind of X-ray snow you buy in the five-and-ten. Mention poker sharks in the upper strata of Hollywood society and someone's sure to answer "Connie Bennett"—the lady's that expert. Which reminds me that Bob Burns was a champion pistol shot before he learned to play 'em with that bazooka.

Jack Haley continues to wall about the tin suit and aluminum face paint he's forced to wear as the "Tin Woodman" in the "Wizard of Oz." "Thought I'd been through the worst of it," he grunts this morning, "but now they're adding insult to injury. Last evening some dizzy dame caught me standing on the curb and tried to mail a letter in me!"

Report to Board Shows Club Work On Conservation

Pheasant Raising, Tree Planting on Program of Student Organization

Neenah — Activities and plans for the Neenah High school Conservation club have been outlined in a report submitted to the board of education, according to C. F. Hedges, superintendent of schools.

Plans for the year include raising and curing of pheasants, planting of 2,000 evergreen trees, bird banding, talks on conservation to grade pupils, bird house building and an assembly program at the high school during national conservation week, March 19 to 25.

The report pointed out that the club, which was organized two years ago under the direction of Armin Gerhardt, is the only high school club in the state having its own brooder house. There are 110 boys and girls in the group and Miss Grace Breiter and John Gundlach are assisting Gerhardt. In the brooder house, the club has raised 300 pheasants. Wild duck food has been planted at Kimberly Point, Ricker's Bay, and 1,500 trees have been planted along the slough and 150 trees in Lauden park.

25 Feeding Stations

The report continued: "The club has built hoppers for pheasant feeding and has established 25 feeding stations. Fifteen small bird feeders have been built and placed in the city."

"Club members have raised so far this year $125 in candy sales, school movies, dances and a puppet show. Jack and James Kimberly and Donald Shepard have contributed $225 and the board has appropriated $45 for club work. The Wisconsin state conservation commission has furnished free feed for the brooder house chicks."

"Another project has been the study of conservation and wild life by means of moving pictures. These have been shown to grade school pupils in correlation with their studies of animal and plant life."

Cummings to Talk on Washington Program

Neenah — Dr. Richard O. Cummings, assistant professor of history at Lawrence college, will talk to Neenah High school students at a Washington day program in the

Greek Services for Lenten Season are Held at Fond du Lac

The lenten period for the Greek Eastern Orthodox church Monday with special services at Holy Trinity church, Fond du Lac, which a number of local people attended. During the 50-day penitential season, believers in the Greek Orthodox faith are forbidden the use of all meat, fish, milk, butter and cheese except on Palm Sunday and the feast of the Annunciation March 25.

Nightly services are held at the Fond du Lac church during this period, ending with the Orthodox Easter which this year occurs on the same date as the western church, Easter day, April 9.

Wednesday and Friday morning the liturgy of the pre-sanctified will be read, and bread consecrated the preceding Sunday will be used in the service. Special services every Friday night include the singing of the long and famous hymn developed from the salutation to the Blessed Virgin by the angel Gabriel at the annunciation. The hymn is divided into four parts or stations. The first sung on the first Friday of lent, the second on the next Friday, and so on until the fifth Friday of lent. The third hymn is repeated on the third Friday of lent. These Friday services in honor of the Blessed Virgin are among the best loved among the Orthodox rites.

The Greek community of Appleton will have a special lenten service in this city at a later date.

Complete 482 Garments On WPA Sewing Project

Women employed on the WPA sewing project in the old post office building completed the making of 482 garments in the last two-week period, according to Mrs. J. Dresely, supervisor. The allotment consisted principally of pants, overalls, jackets, dresses, jayettes and night gowns. The shoe repairmen employed under the project mended 57 pairs of shoes during the period.

Joan presented under the auspices of the Altar Guild on Monday evening at the Grange hall drew a large crowd.

The Rev. B. Plopper, who was pastor of the Congregational church here several years ago, has resumed his pastorate in the Methodist Episcopal church at Green Bay after a long illness.

The Hobart Community meeting will be held at the schoolhouse Friday evening.

Clare Major Will Present 'Nobody's Boy'

APPLETON children who have read or heard the story, "Nobody's Boy," a juvenile best-seller since its publication in 1878, will be able to see Reml, his clever monkey, Pretty-Heart, and his performing dog, Cap, when the Clare Tree Major Children's Theater presents the first dramatization ever made of the French tale at 2:30 next Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 28, at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

In presenting this story of a little French boy, Mrs. Major, director of the Children's Theater, is following her belief that one of the most "constructive functions of theater work for children is the broadening of the child's horizon and showing him how children of other nations live.

"No child who is trained to have a real sense of the kinship of all races can be easily stirred to racial hatred," she says. "If all the world's children could be educated in this way to acquire a deep feeling of human brotherhood we should have gone a great way toward establishing the mental background which will some day make war impossible."

In its 15-year history, the Clare Tree Major theater has presented plays of many nations, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, England, the Balkan states, Egypt, Ireland and the Orient.

Your Birthday

"PISCES"
If February 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a. m. to 12:15 p. m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p. m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a. m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p. m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p. m.

The celebration of George Washington's birthday, should help revive the spirit of patriotism in many people, and bring into their consciousness a feeling of gratitude for the liberty we now enjoy. There should be many opportunities for acts of kindness, and if during the day you "cast thy bread upon the waters" you are likely to "find it" after many days. Resolutions are apt to be difficult to keep, so it will be better if you make only one, upon which you can concentrate, rather than several which you are liable to forget. Unforeseen delays may upset many well made plans, unless you allow yourself plenty of time. It might be better to offer no excuse at all rather than a poor one. Do not disregard your mental reactions for they are liable to be correct. Let instinct guide you for through some involuntary urge you may do the right thing at the psychological time. Married and engaged couples, and those who are in love, ought to find this an auspicious day for discussing their personal affairs.

If a woman and February 22 is your birthday, it might be well to remember it is easy to get into the habit of making excuses, but very difficult to break yourself of it. You are apt to win a great deal of praise through the skill of your hands. Wealth and luxuries may eventually contribute to your happiness and bring you freedom from many cares. Through photography, publicity work, business management, writing, acting, teaching or musical career, fame and wealth may more than compensate your fight for them. Your richest reward may be your marital union. The child born on February 22 may have to overcome a tendency to be bashful, in early childhood. This youngster is apt to be easily affected by criticism, as it may take

Commerce Bureau Urges Industrial And Farm Policies

Says Careful Planning Needed to Solve State's Problems

Madison—The state department of commerce recommended carefully planned industrial and agricultural policies today as a means of solving Wisconsin's economic difficulties.

Summarizing a comprehensive study of the state's resources and its comparative ranking with other states, the department attributed present troubles largely to a maladjustment between population and industrial production from 1929 to 1935.

The 100-page report written by Francis F. Bowman, Jr., said population during that period increased 5 per cent while industrial production decreased 11 per cent and wage earners decreased 16 per cent.

The core of many of our economic difficulties lies in these figures for unless the production of industry can again be raised to the point where it absorbs employees at a rate comparable to our population growth, other employment outlets or fields of endeavor must be developed," Bowman said.

Cheese Industry Hit
One of the hardest hit industries was cheese manufacture, the report said. While it still is first in the nation, it was decreased 20 per cent to half of the nation's total.

"To enable this industry to more effectively meet rising competition, the feasibility of a more efficient system of cheese manufacture in larger establishments (instead of 1,800 small plants) should be examined," the report stated.

Bowman also anticipated a drop in the state's lumber producing activities, but said the furniture industry should be aided by protection from southern competition through the wage-hour law.

Sale of Wisconsin machinery, listed as one of the state's leading industries along with motor vehicles and paper, would "greatly benefit from improvement of direct foreign shipping facilities on the Great Lakes," the survey said.

From 1914 to 1932, 37 industries expanded in the state while nine declined, compared to expansion of seven industries and decline of 35 in the period from 1929 to 1935, the report declared.

"New industries creating new employment outlets must continue to arise in Wisconsin lest the decline of older industries through the shifts in economic demands bring about a general decline in the state's industrial position," Bowman said.

Report's Findings

1. Wisconsin ranks first in production of dairy products, second in paper, agricultural implements, aluminum ware, millwork, plumber's supplies, leather goods, cranes and hoists; third in beer.

2. Wisconsin ranks eleventh among industrial states.

3. One-fourth of factories employ three-fourth of the state's industrial workers.

4. Paper-making is the most stable employer of labor.

5. Three-fourths of state industries import over one-half of their raw materials.

6. No single industry employs more than 10 per cent of the state's labor.

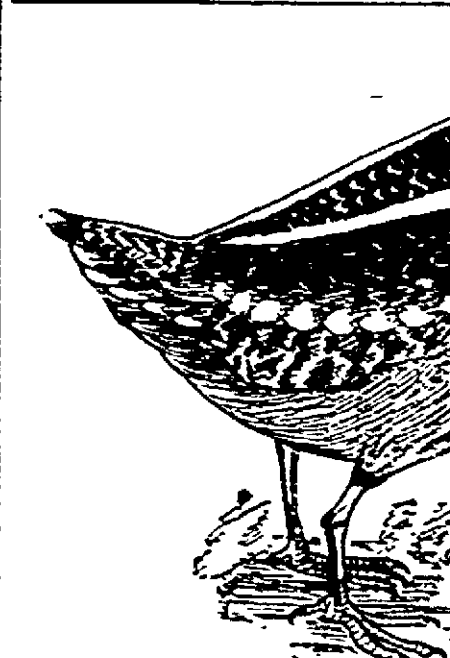

7. One half of the state's exports are marketed east of Chicago.

8. Of the state's gainfully employed, 24 per cent are in agriculture, 32.5 per cent in manufacturing, and 43.5 in other lines.

Policemen to Start Dog Tax Collection

The collection of dog taxes in Appleton will be turned over to the police department Thursday by the city treasurer, Joseph A. Kox, he said today. The treasurer has sold 240 dog tags to date. The money collected during January will be turned over to the county treasurer.

Identify Wisconsin Birds

This is one of a series of 14 brief articles describing birds common to Wisconsin. It is suggested that readers clip these articles and illustrations for a strapholder.

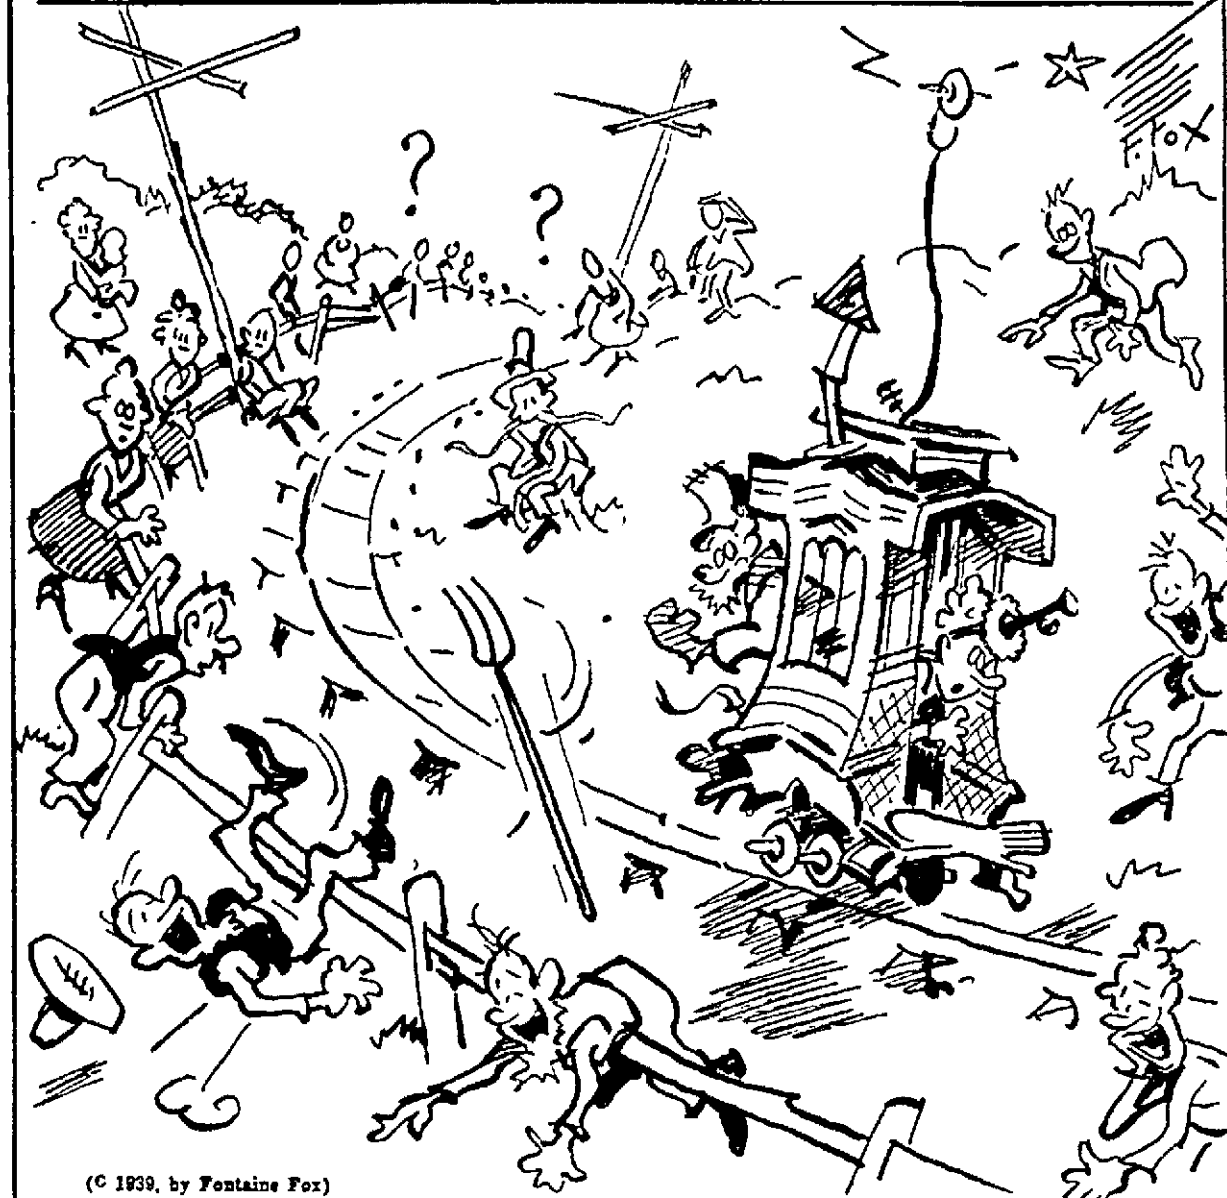

The American Woodcock, a long, famous and much-prized game bird, is a Wisconsin summer resident breeding throughout the state. At no time very common in Wisconsin, bird students wonder if it may not be on the way to extinction, regardless of stringent hunting regulations, because of the destruction of its thicket type of habitat.

The bird's general range is eastern United States and eastern southern Canada to Nova Scotia, west to the Dakotas, eastern Colorado and to eastern Manitoba in Canada. It breeds throughout this range and south to the Gulf states. It winters from southern Missouri, Ohio Valley, southern New Jersey, south to Texas and Central Florida.

Its food consists almost entirely of earthworms when they are available, the bird boring into the ground to get them. In dry times when earthworms cannot be reached, it feeds on insects, larvae, grubs, ants, slugs, etc.

Irene O'Connor Becomes Nun At Convent at Green Bay

Bear Creek — Solemn investigation of Miss Irene O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor of Bear Creek, took place Thursday at the Convent of the Sisters of Our Lady of Charity at Green Bay. The ceremony began at 8 o'clock in the morning in the monastery chapel. The Right Rev. Abbot, B. H. Pennings of St. Norbert college, De Pere, was in charge. He was assisted by the Rev. J. G. De Vries of Bear Creek, and Rev. Father Dietrich, chaplain of the institution, as deacon, and sub-deacon respectively. The officiating priests met the candidate, Miss O'Connor, followed by the sisters of the house, in the vestibule and marched in solemn procession to the altar rail, where Miss O'Connor expressed before the officiating abbot, her desire to spend her life as a sister of the institution. Thereupon the abbot blessed the religious habit of the candidate and she was invested, assisted by the Mother Superior and her secretary.

After the investiture a solemn mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Regino, assisted by the Rev. J. G. De Vries and the Rev. Fr. Dietrich, as deacon and sub-deacon. The Rev. P. P. Wagner acted as master of ceremonies. After mass a sermon was preached by the Rev. J. L. Reusse, professor at St. Norbert college, which was followed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Other priests in the sanctuary were: the Rev. John Quicley of Poygan, the Rev. Henry Head of Green Bay and the Rev. V. Dupont of De Pere.

At noon a dinner was served for the visiting priests, relatives and friends of the newly invested sister, who took the name of Sister Mary Immanuel. Among the relatives and friends who attended were: the Rev. J. G. De Vries, Bear Creek; Sister Rosetta and Sister Paulette of St. Mary's Appleton;

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor, Ellen, Edwin and Frances O'Connor, Edward Neely, Mr. and Mrs. George Long, Misses Katherine and Margaret Honisch, Harold and Fred Hoffman, Mrs. W. J. Orr and daughters Ellen and Dorothy, Mrs. Robert Neely and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Lawrence Neely of this vicinity; Mrs. John O'Connor and daughters, Phyllis, Lucille, Evelyn, and Agnes, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O'Connor, Mrs. Lyman Stevens, Mrs. Herbert Orr, Miss Mabel Neely, of Clintonville; Mrs. Henry Flanagan and daughter, Margaret; Miss Anna Mae Smith, of this village; Misses Clare and Beatrice O'Connor, Grace Mc Laughlin, Leone Young, Verona Guert, Beatrice and Janet Ralster of Appleton, Mrs. John Rohan of Lebanon, Misses Katherine McKone, and Evelyn Murphy, Mrs. Leslie Kelly and her mother, Mrs. Frank Hurley and daughter of Green Bay.

A large crowd attended bargain day at Bear Creek Saturday. The following women surprised Mrs. M. P. Dempsey at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. P. J. Dempsey, Mrs. M. M. McClellan, Mrs. Emma Miller, Mrs. Martha Richardson, Mrs. Mary Mulvey of this village and Mrs. E. J. McLaughlin of Clintonville. The time was spent playing fifty and a 5 o'clock supper was served.

A meeting of the Young Ladies Sodality was held Sunday morning at St. John's church. Officers were elected as follows: President, Miss Anna Marie Johnson, re-elected; vice president, Miss Eleanor Wied; secretary, Miss Rosella McClure; treasurer, Miss Katherine Baites, re-elected.

Organization of Scout Troops Is Topic at Meeting

Gathering to be Held Friday Evening at Little Chute Village Hall

Little Chute—Because of many requests from residents of the village for the organization of local Boy Scouts a meeting has been called at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the village hall by L. N. Schommer, manager of the Wisconsin Telephone company of this village, for the purpose of discussing the organization and making arrangements for the committees to take charge of the work. It is expected that all fathers of boys of boy scout age of the village will be present at the meeting.

Out-of-town speakers will include E. N. Belanger of Appleton, past president of the Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America and present chairman of the Catholic committee on scouting of the Green Bay diocese; Chriss Larsen of Appleton, district commissioner of the Valley council; Fred Duprey of Appleton, field commissioner; Walter Dixon of Appleton, scout executive of Valley council. In addition to the local fathers attending the meeting all young men of the village interested in the scout movement also have been invited to attend. The discussion will include preliminary course on scouting, scout leadership and many other topics pertaining to the boy scout movement. Wesley Olson of Neenah will show movies at the meeting of scout activities and also of the Gardner dam scout camp.

300 Attend Play
In spite of the bad weather condition about 300 persons attended the presentation of "Fixin' Aunt Fanny," three-act mystery farce, at the St. John school auditorium Sunday evening. It was given by the students of the junior speech class of St. John High school and was directed by the Rev. Gerald Van Nuland. Leading parts were played by Margaret Mary De Groot, the bride; Marian Jansen as Mrs. Randolph the ruler of the family; Doris Vanden Heuvel as Aunt Fanny, the old maid aunt; Clarence Vanden Heuvel, the meek husband of Mrs. Randolph; Harriet De Backer, as Audrey Nelson, the young romantic type, and Joseph Winus as Tad Randolph, the young hopeful of the Randolph family. Others who took part were James Hermesen, who played the part of Toby Sullivan, the helpful friend; Stanley Versteegen as Eisenheimer, the collector; Eugene Bevers, as Bloodhound Bailey, a detective, and LaVerne Look as Clarabelle, a vamp and flirt. Between acts several vocal selections were given by all the members of the Junior class with Miss Joan Hermesen as the pianist. The members of the production staff were: Lea, Vanden Heuvel, Norbert Vosters, Karl Evers, Catherine Schommer, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith, entertained at a dinner at their home Sunday evening. Covers were laid for fifteen guests and cards followed the dinner. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Brantmeier and family, Sherwood; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jenny and Miss Margaret Jenny, Mrs. Joseph Koehn and the Misses Margaret and Helen Koehn, Mrs. George Versteegen and family and Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Bell, Little Chute.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Asten entertained at a party at their home Sunday evening. Cards and Chinese Checkers provided amusement and a lunch was served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vosters, Mr. and Mrs. George Friebe, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Van Asten, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Asten, Little Chute; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schuh and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seidel, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Asten, Kimberly.

The Aryans in India

Entering India more than 3,000 years ago, the Aryans found a land much to their liking. Some of them started villages in the valley of the Indus river. Others pushed on, going southward and eastward.

The white-skinned invaders fought battles with the natives, and won victories. Step by step, the natives were driven back, or were forced to admit that the Aryans were their masters.

The Aryans held power by teaching the brown-skinned people the Hindu religion. This religion had three chief gods—Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva—and many gods of lesser power.

A great religious leader arose among the Hindus, and was given the title of "the Jina." He tried to make the religion better. One thing he taught was that people must not kill an animal of any kind, not even an insect. He has followers to this day, and they call themselves by the special name of "Jains."

In one form or another, the brown-skinned people of India learned the religion of those who had conquered them. The Hindu faith is the main religion of the country.

The Aryans won power over India and taught their religion, but in one important way they lost out. Despite all rules, white-skinned people married those with dark skins. In time, there were few really white persons left in India. We find some modern Hindus with fairly light skins, but the most of them are of medium brown, or dark brown, color.

In that way, the Aryans lost the conquest they had made. They failed to keep their race white.

At an early date, a fourth class, or caste, of Hindus was formed. This caste was made up of the "Sundras," that is, the laborers. A fifth caste came later, the "pariahs" or "untouchables."

Besides the main castes, there are today several thousand sub-castes. In other words, the main castes have been divided time and again.

MINNEAPOLIS —(AP)—Minnesota clung to an outside chance today of winning the Big Ten basketball race by virtue of a 34 to 32 victory over Wisconsin's stubborn Badgers last night.

The score was tied six times as the Badgers had the advantage in height but couldn't last out the Gopher drive near the end of the first half and again in the closing minutes. At the half, Minnesota led by a 19 to 16 margin.

By winning, Minnesota remained in fourth place in the conference standings with six victories and three defeats. It was the sixth loss for Wisconsin in nine starts. Minnesota plays Indiana, the Big Ten pace setter, next, and must win to stay in the running.

Big John Kundla, forward, sparked Minnesota with 15 points, while Dave Dupee, Wisconsin forward, was best for the visitors with five field goals and two free throws for 12 points.

The Badgers found the range early in the second half and gained a 23 to 19 margin before the Gophers counted, but they wilted before the finish as the Gophers, unable to work their fast break very effectively cut and drove around the baskets to keep the shifting guards busy.

Wisconsin had taken the lead early in the game before Minnesota rallied shortly before the half time goal to score six points while holding the Badgers scoreless.

The box score:

GRAPHIC GOLF

BY BEST BALL

WATCH THE GRIP

The manner in which one grips the club often makes it impossible to follow the mechanics of a sound golfing stroke. For instance in the incorrect illustration above the right elbow is a considerable distance out from the body, apparently waving around with no set anchor point to guide its position. As a result the clubhead and the hands are nearer to the ball than is the case with the majority of good swingers. This means that on the downswing the clubhead will sweep down to the ball from the outside in, cutting across the ball from right to left and inducing a slice. The reason for this is that the right hand grip is so far under the shaft, that this position of the right elbow is all that is possible at the top of the stroke. If, as in the correct position above the right palm were facing the hole at address with the left hand well on top of the shaft, the body could turn easily and fully with the right arm near the body at the top and with the back of the body presented to the hole. This not only will give greater accuracy with the club-head travelling from inside out on the downstroke but greater power as well.

Hoosiers Defeat Iowa to Maintain Lead in Big Ten

Purdue Out of Running; Ohio State, Minnesota Still Have Chance

CHICAGO —(AP)—Purdue, last season's Big Ten basketball champion, has been dethroned, but it looks as if the title will remain in the state of Indiana.

The league-leading University of Indiana five notched its eighth league victory in a row last night, defeating Iowa, 45 to 40, with only three games to go. The Hoosiers have lost one game.

But just in case the Hoosiers falter, Ohio State is hanging tenaciously to second place with seven wins in nine games and may yet share title honors if either Minnesota, Purdue or Michigan can tame the Indiana five.

Purdue dropped out of the picture last night by losing to third-place Illinois, 35 to 26. Minnesota hung onto fourth place with a 34-32 decision over Wisconsin, and Ohio State nosed out Northwestern, 40 to 36.

Minnesota is Indiana's next opponents. They play Saturday at Bloomington and the outcome will decide whether the Gophers still have an outside chance for top laurels. The Gophers and the Illini have lost three games each.

Other Saturday games toss Michigan against Purdue, Ohio State against Wisconsin and Illinois against Northwestern.

Last night's Indiana victory, gained without the services of Captain Ernie Andres, future emphasized the class of the Hoosiers. In nine games they have averaged better than 42 points a game, while holding the opposition to 34 points per game.

Chicago's lowly Maroons emerged from the cellar for the first time since early in the season, when Iowa lost to the Hoosiers. The defeat dropped the Maroons into the basement with eight losses in ten games as against one less setback for the Midway five.

Hank Leiber Thinks Cubs Took Giants for Buggy Ride in Deal

NEW YORK —(AP)—Baseball: There should be a break on DiMaggio within 24 hours. The papers report Prof. Bob Feller, 21, is giving pitching tips to Fred Hutchinson, 20. Hank Leiber thinks the Cubs took the Giants for a buggy ride in that big winter deal and would tell Bill Terry so personally only the two aren't speaking. Correction: Larry MacPhail wrote the editor.

of the Pageland (S. C.) Journal denying he ever said nobody within 50 miles of Pageland except Van Mungo ever made more than a hamburger.

Competition will be so stiff at Northwestern Billy De Correvont, 1937's All American prep, may find himself on the third starting team. ## Gabby Hartnett Lays Down Law as Cubs Head West

Jovial Manager-Catcher Turns Tough Guy for Spring Training

CHICAGO —(AP)—Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett, the 39-year old manager-catcher of the Chicago Cubs known wherever baseball is known for his joviality, has turned tough guy.

Gabby herded a group of pitchers and catchers on the train last night and headed for Catalina island, spring training quarters for the Cubs. But before he left he gave the players some idea of what to expect when the drills begin Friday.

"We're going to follow the same routine as before. But its going to be different in one respect—there's going to be more pepper and class," said Gabby.

"For the last few years on the club its just been one ache and pain and aches after another. I'm sick of hearing about them. The fellows who usually are complaining—and I'm not including Dizzy Dean, who really had a sore arm—invariably are the ones loafing around the spring camp."

"Cry-Baby Stuff Out!" "Well, that's out. The pitchers have 10 days to get into shape, before the second squad hits the island. And they're going to be ready to put some stuff on the ball."

"I want to see everybody straightened around this year so we can get off to a flying start. No more cry-baby stuff."

Traveling with Gabby were pitchers Jack Russell, Kirby Higbe, Vance Page and catchers Bob Garback and Bill Baker. Earl Whitehill, veteran southpaw, and Al Eppler, rookie pitchers, are expected to join the squad in Iowa.

All other signed battermen will join the Hartnett party in Los Angeles for the boat trip to Catalina Thursday. Larry French and Gene Lillard are still unsigned, but are expected to come to terms before Thursday.

John Van Roy had high series of 593 on games of 240, 165 and 178. His 240 was high game.

Margaret Randerson had high series for the girls with 566 on games of 193, 178 and 190. Her game of 198 was high.

4 Appleton Lads in Finals at Green Bay

Four members of the Appleton boxing team will fight in the semi-finals and finals of the Press-Gazette Golden Gloves tournament at Green Bay tonight. The bouts are scheduled to get underway at 8:30.

Flying Appleton's colors will be Charles Gerlach, Marvin Stojakovic, Harvey West and Smoky Van Boxel, the latter three competing in the novice division.

Sheboygan Team Wins Fox Valley Bowling Tourney

Citizens State Bank Five Is Tops With Total Of 3,043

SHEBOYGAN—With the Security National Bank klegers chalking up 2,995 in the five-man event over the week-end, and Citizens State Bank's 3,043 of last week still tops in that event, Sheboygan bowlers finished one-two in the five-man event of the Fox River Valley Bowling tournament finals.

R. Mahnk, also of Sheboygan, took all-events honors with 1,851, followed by A. Wagner of Kiel with 1,857.

Third place winners in the five-man event were Straus Printers of Madison, 2,937, followed by Texaco Fire Chiefs, Stevens Point, with 2,928.

Fond du Lac bowlers cleaned up in the two-man events. W. Keip-L. Mertz topped all maple tossers with 1,222, and C. Rue-F. Meyer rolling into second place with 1,202, closely followed by the Madison team of R. Farness-C. Wedikind.

The Manitowoc men swept the individual event. C. Kleinbauer's 689 taking first and Ken Heasler 661 adding second. C. Thiel, local bowler, came up third, having 643.

'Y' Volleyballers Trounce Oshkosh

Appleton Team Upsets Oshkosh Team First Time in Many Years

The local Y.M.C.A. volleyball team accomplished a feat last week which no other Appleton team has done during the past 8 or 10 years.

The team, coached by Elks of Oshkosh into camp, on their own floor, in five straight games. It has been many a moon since any Appleton team even came close to breaking even at Oshkosh, but to win 5 straight at Oshkosh is something for the books.

The Elks threatened in only two games, the first and last. The "Y" took the first game by a score of 15 to 12, the second by a score of 15 to 10 and followed this by a score of 15 to 12 in which the Elks were outclassed. The Appleton aggregation took the fourth game by a score of 15 to 6, as the Elks became disorganized. The "Y" killers would drive to the back court and then place soft ones in holes just over the net, completely upsetting the defense of the Elks.

The final game, which proved to be the closest as far as score was concerned, was also won by the local lads, this time by a score of 17 to 15. With the scored tied at 15-all, and Schendel serving, Mullen drove down two kills for points and the ball game.

The Elks will play a return match at Appleton Friday, Feb. 24. All of the Appleton players, which included Eugene Mullen, Percy Menning, Rev. C. M. Schendel as spikers and Robert Potter, Robert Heiss, John Sjlander and Harvey Kahler as setup men, played consistently good volleyball.

Oshkosh All-Stars Invited to Play in Cage 'World Series'

Chicago —(AP)—A "world series" of professional basketball is the latest prospective lure for fans of the indoor game.

Chicago promoters Harry Hannin and Harry Wilson said yesterday they were planning a tournament for Chicago, March 26-28, among the nation's 12 best pro teams.

They said they had already invited the New York Celtics, New York Renaissance, Harlem Globe Trotters, Hammond, Ind., All-Americans, Jersey City Reds, Oshkosh, Wis., All-Stars, Indianapolis Kautskys, Akron, O., Firestones, Sheboygan, Wis., Redskins, and Philadelphia Hebrews.

Two other teams are to be selected from the Southwest and Pacific coast.

OPENING-DAY FAN Cynthia, Ky. —(AP)—

Rickel claims to be the oldest baseball fan in the U. S. He is 103 years old and hasn't missed an opening game in Cincinnati for the last half century.

Only Complete Collapse Could Keep Oshkosh From at Least a Share of Conference Honors

postponed encounter tonight—draws the assignment of trying to check the Indians this Friday. In other Valley clashes Appleton travels to Green Bay East, Green Bay West invades Fond du Lac, and Sheboygan Central plays at Manitowoc.

Dick Bixby, ace Oshkosh guard, hoisted his individual scoring total to 94 points this week, climbing 18 points ahead of his teammate, Lawrence Shadd, who ranks second.

A close third is Don Joseph of East, with 74 points and Allen Fraser of Appleton, who has played in one less game than the others is a dangerous fourth with 70 points.

Changes in the offensive and defensive rankings of the teams last week were slight. Manitowoc advanced from sixth to fifth place offensively, replacing Sheboygan Central, and Green Bay East moved from third to second on defense, dropping Oshkosh a notch.

The offensive averages: Oshkosh 30.7, Appleton 26.5 East 25.3, Fond du Lac 23.9, Manitowoc 23.8, Central 22.7, West 21.9, North 20.1.

The defensive average: Manitowoc 20.5 East 21.4, Oshkosh 22.1, West 23, Appleton 23.6, Central 25.1, Fond du Lac 29.3 North 31.1.

Appleton's game at North tonight will straighten out the Valley slate, leaving each team with 10 games played. Although Oshkosh definitely holds the inside track, the Indians face some tough opponents, meeting Appleton, North, Appleton, West and Fond du Lac.

Green Bay East yet must play Appleton, North, Manitowoc and West, while Manitowoc must meet Central, Fond du Lac East, and Appleton.

Terrors to Meet Sheboygan North In Postponed Tilt

Appleton High School Cagers Seek Sixth Conference Victory

TONIGHT'S GAME
Appleton at Sheboygan North.

FRIDAY'S GAMES
Appleton at Green Bay East.
Green Bay West at Fond du Lac.
Sheboygan Central at Manitowoc.
Oshkosh at Sheboygan North.

I APPLETON High school cagers play the kind of ball they've been showing of late, they'll hang up their fourth straight Fox River Valley conference triumph in a postponed game at Sheboygan North tonight. The Terrors have been showing all kinds of stuff in recent games and apparently have hit their stride.

Sheboygan North is at the bottom of the heap with one win and eight defeats while Appleton is nestled in third with five victories and four defeats for a .556 rating.

The Blue and Orange outclassed Fond du Lac for a 30 to 18 triumph last Friday night and held West Green Bay bucketless for the first 22 minutes of a tilt the previous week.

Besch is expected to get the call at center tonight while Fraser and Werner likely will be seen in the forward berths. Morris, DeLeest or Bailey will show in the back, while Swann and Burton will be ready to step in wherever and whenever needed.

Reserve teams will meet in a preliminary.

Expecting Unsigned Yankees Will Come To Terms This Week

New York —(AP)—President Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees figures his five unsigned players all will come to terms before the first contingent of ball players leaves on Saturday for the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp.

The five are Joe DiMaggio, Frank Crosetti, Bill Dickey, Red Rolfe and Joe Gordon.

"We are only a few points out of line with these players," said Barrow. "Before the end of the week we'll likely have every player under contract."

Oshkosh Ice Yacht Club Plans Regatta

Oshkosh —(AP)—The annual regatta of the Northwest Ice Yacht Association will be held here on Lake Winnebago starting Saturday morning, the sponsoring Oshkosh Ice Yacht club announced.

Boats winning the first three out of five races are judged the winners. The regatta was held at Madison last year.

Fractional Gains Predominate in Prices of Shares

Traders Apparently Less Uneasy Over Foreign Situation

New York—(AP)—Mild recoveries today dotted a slow-going stock market ticker tape, but many issues lacked even slight rising tendencies.

Although fractional gains predominated at the close, numerous stocks were unchanged to off a trifle. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 450,000 shares.

Tension over foreign affairs appeared to have lessened somewhat, but speculative forces were disinclined to make any large wagers on potential overseas happenings. At the same time, opinions were heard in boardrooms that recent war talk may have been much louder than really was justified.

Business news provided no outstanding market inspiration. It was suggested, spring prospects were rather obscure, despite the belief of some observers an upturn could

New London Squad Will Close Season Against Kaukauna

Teams Will Battle for Place Behind Leaders in Standings

New London—One of the feature tilts of the Northeastern Wisconsin basketball conference will be played on the New London floor at the Washington high school Friday evening when the Stacymen and Kaukauna high school cagers fight it out for third place in western division standings. It will be the last conference battle for the Bulldogs.

Despite the physical handicap encountered by the team this year they are closer to the top of the heap than previous years. The Red and White have heavily outscored their opponents throughout the season, losing crucial tilts seldom by more than two points and winning others by wide margins.

Kaukauna is a formidable challenge to the Red and White hopes, having broken even so far in 10 games. The Stacymen have the edge, having won six and lost five, and this being their last game on the home floor.

While several regulars have been indisposed because of injuries, the reserves have shown themselves capable of carrying on. Kenneth Ross and Harold Pies have been doing fine work, the former in offensive shooting and the latter showing well at both offense and defense. Stewart Hammerberg, veteran guard whom Pies has been replacing, is walking again on his ankle. He sprained it in the Shawano game over two weeks ago and though he is not expected to see much action yet he will be priming for tournament time.

Award Plumbing Work at Stadium

Fred Schulz Gets Contract; Installation to Begin Within Week

New London—The contract to install the plumbing at the Hatten Memorial park athletic stadium was awarded this week to Fred Schulz of New London and work of installation will begin within a week, according to F. A. Jennings, park superintendent. The installation complete will require an expenditure of about $1,000 according to the contractor.

The footings and six feet of wall have been completed for the 18 by 30 foot end of the shelter house at the park. The house will consist of two 18 by 30 foot rest rooms with a lounge, fireplace and recreation room between. It is expected that all but the roof of the structure will be completed by the end of March.

H. A. Steinberg, foreman of the city houseumbing project, began work today as timekeeper at the park project. Edward Eastman, formerly the timekeeper, has been transferred to the county stone crushing project at the ledge south of the city.

Debaters Perform at Rotary Club Meeting

Standings: W. L.
Post Office 13 8
Mike's Tavern 13 8
Cedar Lawn Dairies 9 12
Fords 7 14

New London—Len Hoffman hit the maples for a 613 series to boost his own high league mark in the Goodfellowship loop at Prah's alley last night, chalking up games of 216, 200 and 197 at anchor for the Fords. Lowell Dant collected a 550 count and 215 game but the team lost three games to the Postals who set up a new high team total of 2,695 and high game of 972. They skinned the Fords by scores of 828, 972 and 895 to 827, 889, 877—2,593.

Pacing the mailmen were Art Lash with a 224 line and 588 total, Keith Prah with 214 and 570. Mike's kept the lead deadlocked by taking three games from the Dairymen, 754, 771, 864—2,389 to 751, 764, 861—2,376.

Improvements at Borden Plant are Near Completion

Work at New London Factory Involves Outlay Of $60,000

New London—Improvements at the Borden Milk Products plant here totaling $60,000, including the installation of three new boilers costing $40,000, are in the final stage of completion.

The new boilers have replaced four old type boilers which have been in service for more than 27 years according to G. A. Wells, superintendent of the plant. The new boilers will entirely eliminate the nuisance of soot and smoke except for the 20 minutes necessary each day to start the fires. The new equipment operates with the same fuel pulverizers as the old except for necessary alteration of the boiler pits. One of the new boilers is already in service and the other two are ready to be connected for service.

Other improvements include the laying of a tile floor in the office quarters and the installation of a flash call communication system throughout the plant, permitting instant 2-way loudspeaker communication with any or all of eight sub-stations spread over the company buildings. The system is still in the process of installation with several stations already in operation.

New machinery being installed includes a $5,000 homogenizer, a machine which breaks down fat and solid particles in the evaporated milk product, and about $5,000 worth of new stainless steel sanitary pipe lines and pumps.

New London Youngsters Build Ski Jumps on Almost Anything

New London—Ski jumping is really taking hold among the youngsters of this town as testified by the several makeshift junior jumps which the boys have built from garage roofs and wood sheds.

An average leap of 18 feet is the rule on two jumps erected and in use by neighborhood youths in the Second and Third wards. One slide from the top of James Bodoh's wood shed at 227 E. Washington street is in constant use by nearly a dozen lads of grade school and high school age. Patrons of the slide include Jim and Leon Bodoh, LeRoy Rogers, Dick Kent, Errel McPeak, Allen Ziebur, Howard Mannehen, Junior Schumacher and others.

A group of other boys, uses a slide off the garage of Leo Reetz at 141 Lincoln street. Leaders of the future ski riders are Durland Reetz, orman Wetzel and Donald Beaudoin.

The 60-foot junior slide at Becker's gravel pit is still a popular playground for the more experienced and daring. The group, headed by Tim Kellogg, is considering a sponsored junior meet here sometime in March with visitors from all over the state.

Sixth Number of School Paper Out at Shiocton

Shiocton—The sixth number of the Shiocton high school paper, Chief Shiocton, was issued this week, with Barbara Jean Kuehler as editor-in-chief and David Brooler assistant editor.

The high school and grade students were recently entertained in an assembly program by the musical organizations of the high school under the direction of Miss Dorothy Grehn.

The first number consisted of four selections by the high school orchestra. The girls glee club of 20 voices contributed three numbers. A surprise to the students was the introduction of "The Shiocton Swingers" who offered "You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby." The boys' glee club presented ed a number and the program was brought to a close by the girls glee club which sang "Jeepers Creepers."

Vern Booth of Rhinelander visited Shiocton relatives Sunday. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Booth and son Rex who had been spending a few days with relatives here.
